ANTWERP HAS FALLEN SAYS LONDON MORNING PAPER

Informed on "Good Authority," it Says, But Neither Belgian Minister Nor British Press Bureau Confirms Report—However, Every Sign Indicates That the Belgian Port is Falling—People Fleeing by Tens of Thousands While Their City Burns.

NOTHING TO REPORT SAYS FRENCH WAR OFFICE

Except a Lively Engagement in the Region of Roye, Where 1,600 Prisoners Were Taken—British and German War Officials Have Still Less to Say of Situation in Northern France—British Aeroplanes Active—Foes Claim "Success" in East.

Rome, Oct. 9.—War against Great Britain, according to German newspapers, received here, will commence at the end of October, after Antwerp has fallen.

Belgium will then become the base of operations against Great Britain, the newspapers say. They add that Admiral Von Tirpitz, minister of the navy, who is at general headquarters, with Emperor William, has announced that he will go aboard the flagship of the German fleet and direct the operations of the navy.

London, Oct. 10—2:13 A. M.—The Morning Post says that it has been informed by a good authority that Antwerp has fallen. The official press bureau says it is unable to confirm the foregoing.

London, Oct. 10—2:40 A. M.—Count De Lalaing, Belgian minister to Great Britain, says he has received no confirmation of the reported fall of Antwerp.

London, Oct. 10.—3:01 A. M.—"Every sign indicates that Antwerp is falling," says the Daily Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent, in a despatch dated Thursday. It is possible the town will be surrendered.

"There are 20,000 panicky people on the quays and around the railroad stations, waiting to leave.

"The town is in flames throughout the southern section. No attempt is being made to quench them."

The Chronicle's Rosendaal, Holland, correspondent, under date of Friday, says the situation in Antwerp is critical, and that the town is deserted except for Belgian troops.

"Antwerp's civil guard was disbanded Wednesday," the correspondent says.

BATTLE LINE CROSSES BELGIAN FRONTIER.

London, Oct. 9.—Belgium once again is the center of military interest, for not only is her army battling for its life behind the fortresses of Antwerp but the long battle line in France has struggled northward until it has crossed her frontier at Armentieres and yet may join the beleaguered Belgians.

According to a German report received by wireless from Berlin this evening, railway and telegraphic communication with Antwerp is interrupted. It was reported also that the King of the Belgians had been slightly wounded.

The severing of communication had been expected, for the Germans had been directing their attacks at points of ingress to and egress from the city at the same time dropping shells into the town itself. A portion of the town is reported to have been destroyed.

The extent of the damage done in the city is not known definitely. The only accounts available concerning the bombardment are from persons who watched the battle from a distance. That the fighting is desperate there can be no doubt, for the Belgian army, driven from the first line of forts took up good positions behind the second line, prepared to offer desperate resistance to the besiegers. The defenders, however, in their well protected entrenchments, are said to be unable to avoid the shell-fire which is described as terrific and exceedingly accurate.

The Zeppelin airships, too, have played their part in the fray and bombs from them add to the terror.

SUFFERING FROM COLD.

Montenegrin Soldiers Compelled to Retire on This Account.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 9.—A dispatch from Cettinje, Montenegro, says the troops are suffering severely, especially at night, owing to the cold. Snow already covers the peaks of the mountains.

Several detachments of Austrians, the dispatch adds, have been compelled to retire, unable to resist the terrible weather. Some of their sentinels were half frozen.

REFUGEES BY THOUSANDS.

Arriving at Ostend and Packing the Steamers to England.

London, Oct. 9.—"Thousands of refugees are arriving here and the steamers for England are packed," says Reuters Ostend correspondent.

"In the siege operations against Antwerp the Germans are using no less than 200 guns of 11, 12 and 16-inch calibre, some of them having a range of over eight miles.

"The bombardment of Antwerp yesterday began at half past nine o'clock at night, and stopped at 10, only to be renewed with increasing violence at midnight."

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Reviews Operations of Two Days Against the German-Austrians.

Petrograd, Oct. 9.—The following official statement has been given out by the general staff:

"On October 8 our troops on the East Prussian border continued to press the enemy, who had formed two fighting groups.

"The first group was operating in the region of Vladislavoff and Wilballen (both towns in the government of Suwalki, Russian Poland). Our troops dislodged them from Vladislavoff and surrounded them on the north. On October 8th, however, this group still maintained its position east by south of Wilballen. All its attempts to take

DAY'S WAR NEWS AT A GLANCE

The war chancellories of the allies and the Germans have not been fit to lift the curtain of secrecy high enough for the public to obtain an insight into the conditions which prevail along the battle line in France.

"There is nothing to report," says the French war office, "except that there has been a lively engagement in the region of Roye, where, in the last two days, we have captured 1,600 prisoners." That is all. From the British and Germans came nothing.

Of the situation in the East, the Austrian general staff, in a despatch coming by way of Berlin, reported a complete break up of the Russian invasion in Hungary, and said that the Russian Emperor's forces had been cleared from a portion of the Carpathians.

The Russians, in their turn, declared that near the East Prussian frontier, in Russian Poland, they still were pressing the Germans hard and at several points had gained successes over them.

While one morning newspaper in London has been informed, "on good authority," that Antwerp has fallen, neither the British official press bureau, nor the Belgian minister, is able to confirm the report.

The last advices from Belgium had the Germans still hammering away with their artillery against Antwerp. One despatch said 200 big German guns were in operation there. Ostend advices reported thousands of refugees arriving in that city.

A Berlin despatch says King Albert, of Belgium, has been slightly wounded.

British aeroplanes again have visited Dusseldorf, Germany. A report says an aerial squadron succeeded in blowing up a Zeppelin air shed in Dusseldorf and destroying a dirigible balloon in it. The three aviators engaged in the raid escaped, but lost their machines.

Belgium has protested to the Washington government against Germany's alleged action in commandeering all food supplies in Brussels and "reducing the native population to famine."

It is believed in Washington that Captain Le Vert Coleman, who has been in Europe with the American relief commission, will be called upon by the War Department to explain the statements attributed to him in an interview in New York concerning the German army's fighting ability and comissariat, and alleged atrocities committed by the German troops.

M'ADOO CRITICIZES PLAN FOR DIRECT FEDERAL AID

He Declares Proposal to Sell $250,000,000 of Panama Canal Bonds to Bolster Cotton Crop is Not Practicable, and Generally Objects to All Features of Henry Plan, in Sharp Letter to Texas Congressman.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The plan for direct Federal aid to cotton growers to the extent of $400,000,000 was the subject of sharp criticism in a letter to Representative Henry, of Texas, made public tonight by Secretary McAdoo. The letter is in reply to recent statements to the House by Mr. Henry.

Mr. McAdoo announces the proposal to sell $250,000,000 of Panama Canal bonds to bolster the cotton crop is not practicable and generally objects to all the features of the Henry plan. He calls attention to the fact that those who deal in tobacco, naval stores, copper, silver and other commodities have sought government aid.

"If we disregard every suffering interest except cotton," he said, "and make it the sole beneficiary of governmental favor, what becomes of the Democratic principle of 'equal rights for all, special privileges to none?'

"If we enter upon the course you suggest, we must help every distressed industry impartially. To do that would necessitate the issue of many more than $400,000,000 in bonds and greenbacks and dangerously involve the credit of the government. It would be a hopeless undertaking in defiance of every sound principle of finance and economics, with certain disaster at the end."

Representative Henry introduced in the House today a compromise loan proposal presented in a bill framed last night by a conference of Southern members of Congress. It would reduce the proposed loan to $250,000,000.

That $150,000,000 Loan Fund.

While Mr. McAdoo was writing his letter, the committee of St. Louis jobbers and bankers, headed by Festus J. Wade, was in conference with a committee of the Federal Reserve Board over the proposed $150,000,000 cotton loan fund to take care of the surplus cotton crop. No decision was reached and the conference will be resumed tomorrow.

Mr. McAdoo's letter went into the aid so far extended by the Treasury to National banks in the cotton states, showing that it has issued to them since the war began $68,000,000 in currency; that its crop fund amounts to $11,337,000; that its regular deposits in the South total $16,065,000, and that there is available for Southern banks in compliance with law $151,000,000 more in additional national bank currency.

Remedy Not in Legislation.

"What is really wanted," said the letter, "is a restored market for cottton. The value of cotton has been injured this year by the European war. This injury cannot be retrieved nor the market restored by legislation."

In his letter Mr. McAdoo denied that he had the right to deposit Treasury funds, of which Mr. Henry had said there were "several hundred millions", exclusively in the South. The statutes required, he said, that such funds be distributed as far as practicable, "equitably between the different states and sections."

"If the government had several hundred million dollars in the Treasury, Mr. McAdoo said, "Congress would not be engaged now in passing a new tax bill to repair the loss in revenues occasioned by the European war."

In conclusion, the letter says:

"The powers and resources of the Southern states should be employed for the benefit of their people and the National government should not be expected to do things which are beyond its power. I am glad to state that the Federal reserve banks throughout the country are now practically organized. The resources of these banks will be

"DICK" RUDOLPH TWIRLS BRAVES TO AN OVERWHELMING VICTORY

RICHARD RUDOLPH.

BENDER DETHRONED AFTER FIVE INNINGS

Braves' Terriffic Batting A Big Surprise

RUDOLPH IS SUPERB

Game Was Well Won by Timely and Heavy Hitting and Sterling Box Work—No Lucky Breaks or Flukes Figuring.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Playing with the sensational speed that marked their rush from last place to pennant winners in the National League, the Boston Braves crushed the Philadelphia Americans here today in the first game of the world's series 7 to 1. Although the newly constructed baseball machine of "Miracleman" Stallings wabbled once or twice, it never left the track and under the guiding hand of Pitcher Rudolph clashed through Connie Mack's champion Athletics.

The victory over the two to one American League favorites was well won, no lucky breaks or flukes figuring in the play. By sharp, heavy and timely hitting the Braves piled up an offensive lead which, coupled with Rudolph's sterling box work and the general defense of his teammates left no opening for the Philadelphia club's attack.

The Braves were first to score, putting two runs across in the second inning. The Athletics scored their only run in their half of the same inning.

In the fifth Boston scored one run and in the sixth clinched the game by scoring three more and driving "Chief" Bender from the mound. The Braves added another in the eighth when Schmidt stole home.

Weather conditions were ideal. The diamond and outfield were dry and fast. A warm sun in a fleecy sky made wraps unnecessary. Every seat in Shibe Park was filled and several thousand spectators witnessed the contest from stands on housetops overlooking the park. The bleacher stands filled almost immediately after the opening of the gates shortly before 11 o'clock, about 4,000 men and boys gaining seats beyond the outfields, while fully twice that number were turned away.

The Royal Rooters.

The finishing touch was added to the picture when the Royal Rooters, Boston's organized rooting corps, marched into the park headed by their own band. Several leaders wore full Indian war dress. The battle song "Tessie," was sung repeatedly and the three hundred members of the corps cheered each telling Boston hit or play. When the game ended the Royal Rooters paraded around the field singing and snake-dancing.

Nationals' Superiority.

Analyzed from the angle of cold figures, the opening victory of the world's series of 1914 shows that the National League representatives were superior, both collectively and individually, in every department of the opening game, except fielding. The Braves made two errors and the Athletics none. The victors scored seven runs, eleven hits and two errors to the losers one run, five hits and no errors. Rudolph fanned eight Athletics and walked three. Bender struck out three and gave two bases on balls, while Wyckoff, who relieved him, fanned two and walked one Brave. Heavy hitting honors also went to the Boston batters, who totaled 16 bases with 11 hits to the Athletics seven on five hits.

Braves Jubilant.

Far more valuable than the capture of the first game is the confidence that came to the youthful Boston aggregation. Tonight the National League combination feel certain of ultimate victory. Untried in a world's series they established a new record, for they drove "Chief" Bender, to the bench, a feat no other club ever accomplished against one of Connie Mack's twirlers in a world series.

Fully 25,000 spectators saw the game. While the defeat shortened the betting odds it has not shaken the faith of the average local fan in the ability of the Mackmen to win the series. The official attendance figures gave the paid admissions as 20,562, but close to 5,000 additional spectators must have witnessed the play from points of vantage surrounded Shibe Park.

In the distribution of individual honors the lion's share went to Rudolph, who pitched a masterly game. Except for two short periods he had absolute control. He mixed speed, curves and slow balls in a bewildering fashion, feeding his opponents his floater when danger threatened. It was his slow, deceptive ball that proved the Mackmen's undoing, for they are notoriously weak on this point.

Bender, who opened for the home club, appeared unusually weak and the Braves took liberties with his delivery that astonished Athletic supporters.

After the contest Manager Mack said Bender had little or nothing on the ball. He pointed out that the Athletics did little hitting and said he and his players were not a bit discouraged. Asked if he thought his club would hit any better against the other Boston pitchers, he replied:

"I should hate to think that we wont."

Stallings Elated.

Manager George Stallings, of the Braves, was greatly elated. He said: "Well, the boys did exactly what I ex-

RURAL CHURCH IS IN A PERIOD OF TRANSITION

"Hundreds are Needed and Other Hundreds Dying"

Many Existing Organizations Must Disappear, Says Rev. L. D. Anderson, Before American Christian Missionary Society.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—The rural church is in a period of transition. Hundreds are needed and other hundreds are dying. Thousands of village communities are over-churched. Many existing organizations must disappear. Thoughtful men expect and honest men hope for the survival of the fittest. Gradually Christians are perceiving the necessity of some sort of union of religious forces.

These were some of the striking declarations made by Rev. L. D. Anderson, of Fort Worth, Texas, in an address at tonight's session of the American Christian Missionary Society which is meeting here in connection with the international conventions of the Disciples of Christ. He urged heartier support for the church extension funds and advocated the building of attractive church buildings. He said 1,300 congregations of the denomination are homeless and 4,000 other congregations have inadequate structures.

Carey E. Morgan, of Nashville, Tenn., president of the board of trustees of the society, told of the mission of the organization and of what it has accomplished.

OFFICAL FIGURES ON ATTENDANCE AND RECEIPTS

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—The official figures for attendance and gate receipts and the division for the National Commission, players and clubs, is as follows:

Attendance, 20,562.
Receipts, $49,639.00.
National Commission, $4,963.90.
Players, $26,805.00.
Clubs, $17,870.10.
Each club's, $8,935.05.

10,000 AMERICANS HAVE LEFT EUROPE

Embarked from British Isles Since War Began

Nearly That Many Have Been Given Financial Assistance by American Relief Committee in London—Few Remain.

London, Oct. 9.—During the last two weeks the American relief committee has given financial assistance to 241 persons, making a total of 9,595 to date. During this period about 6,000 Americans embarked from these islands for the United States, bringing the total of departures up to over 10,000 since war was declared.

"It is evident the American tourists have pretty well returned home," said H. C. Hoover, chairman of the committee today. "There is, however, excepting a small but steady stream of people who have been marooned in obscure corners of the world. For example, during the last day or two we have had one man who had been helped along by the American authorities from as far as Mozambique, another from Astrakhan, and a third from Calcutta.

"Another situation, however, has presented itself. There is a resident colony of Americans in Europe of perhaps 100,000 persons. A large majority are, of course, able to take care of themselves in times of distress, but there are considerable numbers of Americans employed in minor occupations or engaged in small business enterprises whose resources have been badly dislocated and much acute distress is developing. Many of them, however, will be on their feet again as soon as there is any revival of business.

"As all European nations have a sufficient drain upon them in looking after their own countrymen the care of such Americans must rest on our shoulders. The distress in this connection probably will increase throughout the war and so far as we can see, the committee will have as much as it can deal with.

"Our resources already are overstrained and we shall need to appeal to our countrymen at home for assistance."

NO TIME TO TAX-STAMP NEWSPAPERS FOR MAIL

Publishers Object to Method of Collecting Tax

Will Ask Senate to Change That Portion of War Revenue Bill—Are Not Objecting to the Tax Itself. Method Suggested.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Newspaper publishers generally are preparing to ask the Senate to change that portion of the House war revenue bill, providing for a stamp on the bills of lading on all packages. The nuewspaper owners do not object to paying the tax, but contend that neither the railroads or other transportation companies will hold their cars until newspaper packages are checked, stamped and receipted for.

It is suggested that a tax could be imposed on the basis of sworn circulation.

"Newspapers are not delivered in freight offices," says a statement issued by a Pittsburg publisher. "They are taken direct to trains (passenger trains) at the last possible moment before departure. Facilities for issuing bills of lading or receipts are lacking at trains.

"To comply with provisions of the proposed law would require newspapers to go to press many hours before the time of shipment, and their news value would become of little worth. Many hours time and great labor will be required to make out manifests for each bundle and affix stamps thereto, with still additional delay made necessary to cancellation of the same by railway employees.

"We respectfully suggest that instead of stamps being placed on manifests or bills of lading for cancellation that each newspaper be taxed on its sworn circulation statement."

The statement calls attention to the fact that the Postoffice Department allows newspaper publishers to pay postage in weekly installments, and declares this precedent might consistently be applied in the proposed tax legislation.

POLITICS IN DUPLIN.

Speaking by Hon. Geo. E. Hood, R. D. Johnson and Others.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 9.—The Democrats of Duplin county began their campaign this week with Hon. George E. Hood, of Goldsboro, candidate for Congress for this district; Dr. R. L. Carr, of Rose Hill, candidate for the Legislature, and R. D. Johnson, candidate for the State senate, together with the candidates for all of the county offices speaking at Albertson, where a grand rally of the Democratic forces was held. They also spoke at Alvin tonight, and will conduct an active campaign from now until November 2, and although the campaign just began today it is believed that they will carry the county by 1,200 majority. Considering the fact that the Non-Partisan party and the Progressive party have both met with such poor success in their conventions, it would seem that the work of the Democratic lies more in the task of getting the voters to the polls in November than it does in defeating their opposition, although it is an old adage that "you can never tell how a man will vote."

R. D. Johnson, who is candidate for the office of State senator from the district comprised of Duplin and Pender counties, began his campaign in Pender county last Saturday, speaking at Maple Hill. He will be engaged in canvassing the two counties from now until election time. Mr. Hood will divide his time between this county and the several other counties comprising this congressional district.

HIGHWAYMEN GET AWAY.

After Wounding Jeweler and Robbing Store on Broadway.

New York, Oct. 9.—Three armed highwaymen entered the jewelry store of Joseph Sarewsky, on Broadway, in Brooklyn, today, probably fatally wounded him, swept a quantity of jewelry from his shelves into a bag, and fled.

Two of the highwaymen, pursued by a crowd, escaped with the booty in an automobile. The third highwayman was overpowered. The police said he confessed he had done the shooting.

TO COLLECT TAXES.

Sheriff to Visit Townships Latter Part of Month.

For the purpose of collecting taxes now due, Sheriff S. P. Cowan will be at the following places on the dates named:

Harnett Township, Seven Mile Post, Tuesday, October 27th.

Wrightsville, Wednesday morning, October 28th.

Seagate, Wednesday afternoon, October 28th.

Federal Point Township, Biddle's store, Thursday, October 29th.

Masonboro Township, Capps' store, Friday, October 30th.

CONGRESS EXTENDS THANKS.

To South American Mediators Who Acted in Mexican Trouble.

Washington, Oct. 9.—A joint resolution, extending the thanks of Congress to the South American diplomats who acted as mediators between the United States and the Huerta government, was passed today by the Senate. The resolution provides also for an appropriation of $3,000 for the purchase of gold medals to be presented to the three mediators—Ambassador Da Gama, representing Brazil; Minister Naon, of Argentina, and Minister Suarez, of Chile. The resolution now goes to the House.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY CO. DECLARES A DIDIDEND

Two Per Cent Semi-Annual Payable in Scrip Bearing 4 Per Cent.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Southern Railway Company declared this afternoon a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent., payable in scrip, on its perfered stock. Action on this dividend was deferred several weeks ago because of the unsettled financial situation.

The scrip bears 4 per cent. interest and is payable in five years.

FAMINE IN BRUSSELS CHARGED TO GERMANS

Latter's Ravages Subject of Protest of Belguim

Entire Community Around the Belgian Former Capital Faces Famine and Hunger—Reported to Washington.

London, Oct. 9.—A disptach to the Exchange Telegraph Co., says:

"The Belgian government has addressed to the neutral powers a vehement protest against the action of Germany in monopolizing all the foodstuffs found in Brussels and it's environs, thereby reducing the native population to famine."

Washington, Oct. 9.—The Belgian minister filed with the State Department today a protest from his government against the threatened famine in Brussels claimed to be due to the ravages caused by the Germans army. The protest says:

"The civil authorities of the Brussels aggiomoration inform the government that Brussels faces famine. Violating once more the rights of mankind and namely article 43 of the fourth convention of The Hague, the German army after having taken away from the population an important part of its resources, is getting ready to let it starve. Some information is coming from Namur and Luxembourg.

"The Belgian government protests with the utmost indignation against this revolting act of barbarism and brings it to the knowledge and the appreciation of the vivilized nations."

The "Brussels Agglomoration" is the name given to the city and suburbs which are formed into one civil community.

The Belgian protest recalled to officials here the reported efforts of United States minister Whitlock at Brussels to arrange for the delivery to the population of that city of a large amount of supplies held in England. The British government was said to have refused permission to export the supplies until guarantees that they would not be used by German soldiers were forthcoming, and that it has been impossible to arrange since as the Germans control the territory into which the supplies must go.

Under the Hague conventions the maintenance of the civilian population of a captured territory is a duty resting upon the captors. It was said here tonight that, if conditions in Brussels were as stated in the Belgian protest, it was evidence that Germany lacked supplies there for her own army and that this rendered the relief of the Belgians a more difficult problem.

available in the very near future for the further relief of the financial situation and for the benefit of all kinds of business."

WILSON ISSUES STATEMENT

Endorses Cotton Goods Exhibit—Urges Them in Other Cities.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Urging that the demand for cotton be increased, President Wilson today gave out a statement endorsing the exhibit of cotton goods held here this week and urging that similar exhibits he held in other cities.

"The various movements to relieve the situation of the cotton growers, hard hit by war conditions in Europe, afford fresh proof of the American spirit of helpfulness," the statement said.

"The exhibit of cotton goods in Washington this week opened the eyes of many to the growing crops of cotton. It is gratifying that patriotic women of other cities in our country are planning to follow the good example of Washington women and makes like exhibits in their home cities. Such displays must have the effect of increasing the demand and opening new fields for the use of the fleecy staple and are therefore to be warmly commended."

ANTWERP HAS FALLEN SAYS MORNING PAPER

the offensive at that point failed, the enemy sustaining heavy losses.

"The second group of the enemy, a very strong one, commenced an energetic attack in the vicinity of Ratchka Lake and Bakalarzewo (East Prussia). Towards morning on October 8th we assumed a vigorous offensive against ther front. The enemy, covered by strong rear guard, tried, it seems, to get out of the sphere of the battle. Our troops captured, by successful assaults, the positions which the enemy was trying to hold. We finally occupied Lyck (East Prussia).

REFUGEES BY TRAIN LOAD.

Great Numbers Arrive at London from Antwerp.

London, Oct. 10.—Seven trains bringing refugees from Antwerp arrived here last night. They were met by representatives of the war refugees committee but a majority did not need assistance. Many of the others, however, carried their belongings in paper parcels. These were sent to various institutions pending arrangements for their housing.

An Antwerp real estate man, who escaped on the last train leaving the besieged town, said:

"Fierce fighting was going on almost at our doors when we left. The noise of the big guns was like continuous thunder. Life in Antwerp for the past week had been a nightmare. Considerable damage to houses had been done by bombs dropped from Zeppelin airships.

"Fort a fortnight it had been impossible to obtain a warm meal in the city. The town virtually has been in darkness for two months."

ONE CRAFT HIT BY SHELL.

Eye Witnesses Say They Saw Zeppelin Fall While Attacking Antwerp.

London, Oct. 9.—The Evening Star's Antwerp correspondent says that eye witnesses of the Zeppelin flights over Antwerp insist that they saw one craft hit by shells from the forts, fall to the earth.

During the bombardment of Antwerp Thursday night it is estimated that shells fell at the rate of 20 a minute. Many civilians were killed.

In addition to the law courts building and the museum which were damaged by shells, fires broke out at many points in the city.

HOPE TO LET CONTRACT BY EARLY SPRING TIME

For Construction of Wilmington's New Customs House

Treasury Department Promises Overman and Godwin to do All Practicable to Hurry Matter Along —North Carolina Exhibit.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Senator Overman and Representative Godwin urged the Treatsury Department today to have the work on the new Wilmington customs house started as early as possible. The Treasury officials told the North Carolinians that the plans and specifications for the building are now underway and it is hoped that the contract will be let by early spring.

It is not believed, however, that the Wilmington building will be advanced over its regular place on the list of buildings to be constructed. The officials would be glad to do so in this case, but they cannot because to set a precedent now would mean the disorganization of their working force. It is certain that the building will be hurried along as much as possible, because the government officials have been convinced that there is an urgent need for a new customs house at Wilmington.

President Wilson has signed the bill authorising court to be held at Laurinburg and Wilson. Representatives Claude Kitchin and Page hurried the measure through the House and Senator Overman put it over in the Senate.

President Wilson today complimented those in charge of the National Fashions Cotton Show, which closed tonight after having been open for two days. The President was surprised, too, to know that North Carolina manufactured such a large variety of fine cotton goods. He said that he hoped the example set in Washington would be followed throughout the country, especially in the South.

Mrs. Josephus Daniels had charge of the North Carolina exhibit, which was three times as large as any other, and it is due to her efforts that the State was represented. P. R. A.

DIEDRICH LEAVES ANTWERP.

American Consul General Arrived at Ghent, Belgium, Thursday.

London, Oct. 10.—Henry W. Diedrich, American Consul General at Antwerp, arrived at Ghent, Belgium, Thursday, according to the Ghent correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. In a dispatch dated Thursday the correspondent says:

"Consul Diedrich arrived from Antwerp today. He told me many shells fell in the city between 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night and 7:30 o'clock this morning when he left. One shell exploded just in front of his residence. The Cathedral (the church of Notre Dame) had not been struck."

STUBBORN FIGHTING.

Proceeding Near the Antwerp Fortifications.

London, Oct. 10.—"Stubborn fighting is proceeding near the Antwerp fortifications," says the Daily Mail's Ostend correspondent, telegraphing Friday. "Four assaults have been repulsed at No. 4 fort at Vieux Dieu. The bombardment of the town appears to be diminishing somewhat in intensity."

According to the latest advices the Belgians made a successful sortie from Antwerp which resulted in the capture of 3,000 Germans and forced the enemy to re-cross the river Nethe, abandonfng their guns.

NARRATIVE OF EYEWITNESS.

Describes Operations in France from Day to Day.

London, Oct. 9.—The official press bureau today gives an eye witness narrative of operations in France, supplementing that made public October 3rd.

"Wednesday, September 30, merely marked another day's progress in the gradual development of the situation and was distinguished by no activity beyond slight attacks by the enemy," it says. "There was artillery fire at intervals. One of our airmen dropped bombs on the enemy's rolling stock on the railway near Laone.

"Thursday, October 1, the forces became engaged on the Aisne. During the night the enemy made new trenches and a French aviator dropped one bomb on the railway station and three bombs on the troops massed near it.

"Friday, the second, the Germans were driven out of a mill, they had occupied as an advanced post, by artillery fire. During the night they made the usual two attacks on the customary spot in our lines. Two of their trenches were captured and filled in.

"Up to the 21st of September the air mileage made b your airmen since the beginning of the war amounted to $7,000, an average of 2,000 miles a day.

"Few night attacks have been made against us. Generally troops of 40 or 50 men have come forward as independent units, making every endeavor to obtain advantage from cover. Light balls and searchlights have been used. Latterly these attacks have become half-hearted.

"Against our men the enemy never has closed with the bayonet.

"The German trenches are deep enough to shelter a man when firing from a standing position. Our men at first showed reluctance to entrench. Now, however, having bought their experience dearly, their defenses are such that they can defy the German artillery."

MEET NEXT AT CHADBOURN

Spring Session of Wilmington Presbyterian Will be Held There Beginning April 15th, 1915.

The Spring session of Wilmington Presbytery will be held at Chadbourn next April, beginning at 8 o'clock on the evening of the 6th, the date and place having been decided upon before the fall session, held at Harmony Presbyterian Church, at Kerr, adjourned Thursday.

The fall meeting was in session from Tuesday night to Thursday night, and according to the reports of the Wilmington pastors and laymen who attended, was one of the best in the history of the organization. The attendance, both of ministers and elders, was splendid, practically all of the churches in the presbytery sending representatives.

Many excellent discussions on matters of interest and importantce were had, and much benefit is expected to result from the exchange of ideas and experiences in the problems confronting the churches.

The sessions of Presbytery were also largely attended by the people from the surrounding country, and a most enjoyable feature in connection with the meeting was the picnic dinner and supper, served each day on the church grounds.

The Wilmington delegates report that the good people of Keer royally entertained their visitors, and that all had a most enjoyable time during the meeting.

Flames of Burning Antwerp and Booming of Seige Guns There.

London, Oct. 9.—In a dispatch from Amsterdam filed at 12:46 this afternoon the correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Co., says:

"The uniterrupted thundering of guns was heard at Rosendaal from Antwerp throughout the night. The firing slackened a little in the early morning but it has now resumed with full force.

"The sky last night was made red by the flames of burning Antwerp."

WEALTHY FARMER KIDNAPPED

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 9.—Two robbers kidnapped Charles Ashworth, a wealthy Polk county farmer, today within a few steps of the main street of Valley Junction, a suburb of Des Moines. It is believed they are holding him for ransom.

The bandits stopped Ashowrth and Ed. Wagner, a business man, in an alley near Wagner's place of business and demanded $10,000 from Wagner and $1,000 from Ashworth. Wagner broke away after he had been robbed.

Stallings' Tribe Show General Superiority Over World Champions

pected. I hate to pull the 'I told you so' stuff, but I guess the fans are beginning to realize that we have got a ball club of real class. The mourners have been waiting for us to crack ever since the end of July, but I guess that we can stand the strain of winning a few days more."

Gowdy Led at Bat.

Certain it is that the Boston players held to their task manfully both in the field and at bat. Catcher Gowdy secured a triple, double, single and a base on balls in four trips to the plate. Connolly got one hit and a pass in three times at bat. Schmidt and Maranville each secured two, but Deal, who took Smith's place at third, hit into three double plays in four times at bat. Strunk was the Athletics' heaviest hitter with two singles in four chances.

Stallings Scrappy.

Manager Stallings got into an altercation with an iceman who wanted to place a bet on the Athletics in the lobby of a hotel shortly before the game and the iceman was handed a stinging blow on the jaw. At this juncture other members of the Boston team interfered and hustled their manager into an elevator. The iceman left the hotel vowing vengeance on Stallings.

All the players of both teams were on the field before 1 o'clock, with the exception of "Chief" Bender who did not appear until 15 minutes before the game started. After the usual prolonged conference of the umpires and Captains Evers and Thomas, play was called at 2:05 P. M.

The Game in Detail.

Moran, of Boston, the first man up, let Bender's opening pitch go by for a strike. The second pitch was a foul strike, the third a ball, the fourth a foul and then he sent up a high foul fly to McInnis and the Athletic rooters cheered. The crowd cheered Captain Evers as he stepped to the plate and hit a high fly to Collins. Connoily, the heavy hitting outfielder, was next up. He took a strike and after fouling off another, missed Bender's offering and the side was out.

Baker Failed.

Eddie Murphy, for the Athletics, hit the second ball pitched by Rudolph, to centerfield. Oldring laid down a sacrifice in front of the plate and Gowdy made a high throw to first which Schmidt got after a fine effort, Murphy taking second. Eddie Collins waited and got a base on balls. Then up came "Home Run" Baker. The crowd cheered the slugger and then groaned when he sent a high foul to Schmidt. Murphy on the out tried for third but a beautiful throw by Schmidt to Deal caught him thus completing a double play and ended the inning.

Whitted Scores First.

Whitted for Boston in the second inning was given a base on balls. After Schmidt had lifted a fly to Oldring, Gowdy drove a vicious two-base hit to left center field and Whitted raced all the way home with the first run of the game. Maranville started a tremendous outburst of cheering by the Boston fans by singling to centerfield, scoring Gowdy. Deal ended the inning by hitting into a double play, forcing Maranville at second, Barry to Collins, and going out himself, Collins to McInnis.

McInnis Scores on Error.

McInnis, in the Athletics' turn at bat was passed. Strunk hit a sharp single to right field which Moran let go through his legs. Before the right fielder recovered the ball and threw it in, McInnis had scored and Strunk was on third. Barry struck out. Schang hit an ugly grounder at Evers who made a fine stop and by a quick throw caught the speedy Strunk at the plate on a close decision. Schang was forced at second by Bender, Maranville to Evers.

The Braves did not figure much in their third turn at bat. Rudolph was an easy out, Bender to McInnis. Moran struck out and Evers flew out to Oldring.

Rudolph showed his best in the third. Mixing up his famous slow ball with some fast ones, he struck out Murphy and Oldring. Collins rolled a grounder to the Boston pitcher and was retired at first.

Many Double Plays.

Another double play broke up Boston's fourth inning. Connolly smashed ed a hot drive for a single that Collins jumped for and could not reach. Whitted hit to Bender, forcing Connolly at second. Barry made the play and shot the ball to McInnis ahead of Whitted. McInnis had to stretch to his limit to get the throw. Schmidt went out, Collins to McInnis, ending the inning.

Baker Struck Out.

The world's champions were almost as easy for Rudolph in the fourth as in the third. Baker and McInnis struck out. Strunk made his second hit of the game by a drive to left field. It looked good for two bases but quick fielding on the part of Connolly and a throw to Maranville caught Strunk at second.

The National League champions got their third run in the fifth. Gowdy opened with a terrific smash to left center field for three bases and scored when Maranville dropped a single back of first. Deal hit into his second double play in an attempt to sacrifice. He bunted a fly into Bender's hands. Bender threw to McInnis catching Maranville trying to get back to first. Rudolph struck out.

For the Athletics in the fifth, Barry flied to Maranville who made a hard run to get up to the ball in left field. Schang struck out and Bender sent a long fly to Whitted.

Barry's Great Play.

The sixth inning opened auspiciously for Bender but before it was over he was driven from the pitchers' box for the first time in his world's series career. Moran flied to Barry who made the greatest fielding play of the game in scoring the out. He ran at top speed almost to the left field stand, and by extending himself caught the ball in his bare hand. Evers singled to centerfield, the ball almost striking Bender as it shot past him. Connolly received a base on balls and both Evers and he scored on Whitted's three-base drive to right.

Big Indian Weakened.

The Indian seemed to weaken as he pitched rather unsteadily to Schmidt, who finally put a single into left field, scoring Whitted. Wyckoff, who had been warming up for two innings, then was called into the game and the big Indian slowly walked off the field. The young pitcher passed Gowdy. Maranville hit sharply to Wyckoff who threw to Baker to head off Schmidt but the throw was too late and all runners were safe. With the bases full, Deal tried hard to clear them but the best he could do was to hit into another double play. Baker scooped up his grounder and after touching third, forcing Gowdy, he threw Deal out at first. Wyckoff was given a hand for stopping the run making.

It was one, two, three for the American Leaguers. Murphy went out Evers to Schmidt. Oldring was an easy victim, Deal to Schmidt, and Collins quickly ended the inning by rolling a slow grounder to Rudolph.

Lapp Relieves Schang.

Lapp went in to catch for the Athletics in the seven inning. Rudolph's singled past second but was forced at the middle bag when Baker threw Moran's grounder to Barry. Captain Evers struck out as Moran stole second. Connolly grounded to McInnis who tossed him out to Wyckoff, who covered first base.

The crowd stood up and stretched as Baker came to bat in the seventh. Evers fumbled Baker's grounder and the runner was safe. He moved up when McInnis walked and both runners advanced as Schmidt gathered in Strunk's grounder and touched first. Barry struck out and Lapp ended the inning, Rudolph to Schmidt.

The Athletic rooters realizing hope of winning the game was about gone, started a general movement to the exit gates. Whitted opened the Braves' eighth inning with a high fly to Baker. Schmidt dropped a short fly in left that neither Oldring nor Barry could reach. Schmidt went to third on Gowdy's single to left field. Maranville struck out and a double steal scored Schmidt. Gowdy tried to reach third on the play on Schmidt at the plate, but was thrown out, Lapp to Baker.

Wyckoff Started Rally.

Wyckoff, in the Athletics' half of the eighth, started by hitting to the right field wall for two bases. He took third on Murphy's out, Maranville to Schmidt, and was left there as Oldring struck out, and Collins flield to Connolly.

Boston went out in the ninth on grounders. Deal was out, Baker to McInnis; Rudolph was retired, Barry to McInnis, and Moran ended the inning, Baker to McInnis.

Baker's only hit of the game came in the ninth. It was a two base smash against the right field fence. Deal threw out McInnis, Baker being held at second. Strunk lifted a fly to Evers and the game came to an end when Barry was thrown out, Maranville to Schmidt.

Beantown Hears The News

Boston, Oct. 9.—Business was partly suspended here today while thousands followed the bulletins in the streets and theatres or made use of telephones to learn of the fortunes of the Braves in the opening game of the world series in Philadelphia. In front of newspaper offices traffic was blocked at times and there were wild demonstrations, particularly when the Braves added three runs ot their score in the sixth inning. After that the street throng thinned out, many of the fans apparently believing the game had been decided.

Manager Stallings was praised by many fans for changing Gowdy from eighth to sixth place in the batting list.

Speculators plied a lucrative trade tonight in tickets for the three games to be played here. Forty dollars was asked and received for a pair of tickets which were sold at the grounds for $18 for three games.

Up to the start of the game today the betting here was generally at 10 to 6 on Philadelphia but tonight the odds had changed to ten to nine on Boston.

DID MUCH OF THE GAME WINNING

Gowdy, Stallings' prime mittman, was right in the midst of it, working throughout without the slightest indication of a misplay, handling nine putouts, smashing out a three-bagger, a double and a single for a batting average of 1,000, and bringing across two of Boston's scores.

HUMBLED AS NEVER BEFORE

For the first time in the history of world series games, "Big Chief" Bender was driven from the mound in yesterday's opening game. Jack Coombs was retired in that memorable series with the Giants three years ago, but on account of an injury.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT BATTLES ON GRIDIRON SATURDAY.

Most Stubborn Football Teams Are in First Class Condition.

Louisville, Oct. 9.—With most Southern football teams in good shape as a result of recent minor struggles, several exciting battles are expected between the more important universities and colleges tomorrow.

The Vanderbilt University team will meet the University of Michigan squad at Ann Arbor. Much interest attaches to this game which is an annual feature.

Probably the most important game in the South will be the one between the University of Georgia and the University of the South, at Sewanee. Both teams have been strong contenders for the Southern championship in years past. Tomorrow's game will eliminate one team from this year's race.

Other feature games include Georgia Tech. vs. Mercer at Atlanta; Auburn vs. University of Florida at Jacksonville; University of Tennessee vs. Clemson at Knoxville.

WARHOP HAD THE BETTER OF DUEL WITH JEFF TESREAU.

New York, Oct. 9.—Jeef Tesreau and Jach Warhop engaged in a stirring pitchers' duel here today in the second game of the series for the Manhattan championship. The National's big spitball pitcher became orratic in the ninth inning while the dimunitive American Leaguer with the underand delivery emerged a 2 to 1 victor. The game evened the series between the Giants and Higlanders.

GOOD GAMES AT THE BRIGADE

Another crowd which taxed every available inch of space at the Boys' Brigade was present last night to witness the basket ball games in the Friday Night League, and they were rewarded with two exciting games which kept them in a constant state of vigorous rooting, first for one side and then for the other, this depending upon which side would make a good play or a goal.

The opponents in the first game were the Giants and the Naps. That is, the Giants were in the game and the Naps were the opponents, and while their opposition did not give the Giants much cause for worry, still they were there for all they were worth, and that was some. The Giants developed a streak of the greatest luck ever seen at the Brigade, which, coupled with the best team work they have ever exhibited, made the score very one-sided. It seemed that some of the players on the Giant team could not miss the goal, regardless of how recklessly they would throw or how closely they were guarded. This resulted in a large number of goals, of which C. W. Davis secured 10, Cameron 6 and McCartney 5, to which was added two point from the foul line and their total score was 44 points to 26 for the Naps. It need not be inferred that the Naps did not play a good game, for they did, but they were unable to score when opportunity presented, and so went down to their second defeat of the season.

The second game was between the Braves and Cardinals. This was a very much better game from all standpoints, though the score in this was also very one-sided, with the Braves holding the big end—41 to 23. Harry Register, former captain of Company H, for so many successful seasons, seems to be developing another team along the same lines, but apparently better and faster. Their work was as good as has ever been seen on the Brigade floor, and in some respects better. The work of H. and M. Register at forward was the best combination ever presented here, being very fast, cool and their goal shooting was almost perfect. They were well guarded by Kure and Fick, but despite this, they secured 18 goals between them, Harry caging the ball 10 times and Marvin 8 times, for a total of 36 points. The work of C. Gerdes at center was good, while the work of Snakenberg, at guard, was of a most clever character. The Cardinals played a good game, but missed the presence of their captain, E. J. Irving, and they were not up to their standard. They played a good, fast game, but were weak on team work and goal shooting. They managed to secure four in the first half and five in the second half, and five foul goals in the game. This victory puts the Braves out in front with the Giants and Cardinals tied for second and the Naps last.

In the junior games, played during the afternoon, the Reds defeated the Cubs, the score being 25 to 10. The work of neither team was of the brilliant type, being merely straight basket ball with little team work except in spurts. However, there were several pretty goals shot, four of these being made by "Mack" Griffith, three by Brittain, one by Snakenburg, three by Gore, C., and four by McGowan, for the Cubs, who secured every point for his team. The Stars defeated the Athletics by a score of 19 to 14, the fast, accurate throwing of C. Bell being mainly responsible for this victory over the Athletics. He secured six field goals and three foul goals, making a total of 15 points of the 19 made by his team.

James at center also played a good game, and was especially strong on the defensive. Griffith, C., and Bell, Rob't, each caged the ball three times, while Way secured one. This team needs more work, before they will round out into their best form, as some of them are new to the game, but they give promise of better things in the near future.

CUBS TAKE THE LEAD IN CHICAGO CITY SERIES

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The Chicago Nations went into the lead for the city championship today when they defeated their American League opponents, 2 to 1. The game was a pitchers duel between Humphries and Benz.

The series now stand two to one in favor of the Nationals.

FAIR WEATHER INDICATED

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Indications at midnight were that the weather for the second game of the series would be fair. At that hour the sky was clear with a gentle, westerly breeze.

FEDERALS ISSUE CHALLENGE TO WORLD SERIES WINNER.

Indianapolis, Oct. 9.—The Indianapolis Federal League Club, winner of the 1914 Federal pennant, today issued a formal challenge to the winner of the Boston Braves-Philadelphia Athletics series for a contest to decide the world's championship. The challenge is issued over the signature of James A. Ross, secretary of the local team.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS COAST LINE TIGERS.

First Football Game of the Season This Afternoon at Hilton.

Lovers of football in Wilmington will be given an opportunity this afternoon of witnessing what promises to be an excelent game when the High School eleven will play the Coast Line Tigers at Hilton Park. The game will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock, and a large attendance is expected. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken up to help defray expenses.

The game this afternoon promises to be of especial interest, in that it will give some idea of the efficiency of Coach Shaw's machine on the firing line. The High School has one of the most promising teams in years, and although slightly weakened by minor injuries to several of their star players, promises to give good account of itself in the contest this afternoon.

The Tigers, who were defeated last year by the Highs, will put out a much stronger line-up this year, and they have been putting in some hard work at practice. Those who have seen their practice work predict that they will compare 50-50 to the High School this year, and therefore a most interesting contest is expected this afternoon.

Take your time—but come today. Sale lasts nine days longer. Everything will be sold at some price. I. C. Loftin, Trustee, G. Henry Haar. — Advertisement.

Wilmington leads all North Carolina, in the mildness of her winter climate. In fact Wilmington usually has but little weather that can be considered cold and very seldom any snow. Therefore, her citizens, men and women, ought to lead all North Carolina in the "wear cotton" movement. By the same token, the more southern states should lead the South and the South ought to lead the Nation in the wearing of cotton goods as a substitute for wool and silk.

CANAL DOUBLES WATER TRAFFIC.

The Panama Canal has not been open to traffic but a few months, but traffic authorities state that it has doubled the water traffic between Atlantic and Pacific ports. The railroads are feeling that competition and because of it are asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to reduce trans-continental rates in order to keep the canal from too seriously affecting their transcontinental business.

In Chicago, a few days ago, Paul H. Hastings, general freight agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, testified before Henry Thurstell, special examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that in September last 77,915 tons of freight consigned from one coast to the other passed through the canal, while for the whole year 1913 only 434,115 tons were shipped around Cape Horn and via the Straits of Magellan. In view of canal competition, Mr. Hastings declared that it was necessary for the railroads to make cuts on freight traffic from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast.

Witnesses for the railroads made specific recitals of freight shipments which went by the canal route instead of by the railroads as heretofore. They traced and cited several large shipments to show how the big industries are making large shipments by the water haul. Here are some of the instances:

Thirty-two carloads of cast iron pipe shipped from Birmingham, Ala., by railroad to New Orleans, thence via the canal to San Francisco.

Twelve hundred tons of steel rails from Loraine, O., went by rail to New York, thence by way of the canal to California.

Fifteen hundred tons of wrought iron from Youngstown, O., to interior California points went by rail to New York and thence to the Pacific by the canal.

Previous to the opening of the canal all shipments of this nature went by rail. With the canal in operation, the time now compares favorably with the railroads, and the rates are much lower it was said.

We noticed recently that several large shipments from Canadian and New England points were made through the canal. All this was to have been expected, but it is only the beginning.

It is rather surprising that the railroad traffic men admit that freight from coast to coast will go by the canal about as quick as by rail.

COTTON POOLS BY THE BANKS.

The Star already has referred to the St. Louis plan originated by Mr. Festus J. Wade for the organization of a $150,000,000 pool by National and State banks to relieve the cotton situation. This plan was more fully explained in a Washington dispatch published in The Star yesterday, and the plan has so favorably impressed southeastern financiers that the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association has started a movement for a $100,000,000 fund to be underwritten by banks and capitalists of the Southeastern States.

The pool plan has the approval of President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo and it will strike all practical men as a good and sound business proposition. The St. Louis pool interests propose to establish a fund of $150,000,000 to be loaned at 7 per cent interest secured by warehouse certificates based on a cotton valuation of 6 cents per pound. One of the most appealing features is that the loans are to run 12 months if desired and are renewable for six months more should the borrower care to carry his cotton longer than six months or a year.

It remains, of course, for the pool to be subscribed to by bankers and capitalists throughout the United States, but there is every probability that the fund will be underwritten. It might take time to get the plan in operation, but even if it should require sixty days, the plan holds out the promise of being one of the strong reliances of business during the cotton crisis.

There is nothing benevolent about the plan. It is a business proposition, safely based, and in no sense will it interfere with any of the several plans all of which may contribute a share towards sustaining the price of cotton and thereby sustaining business.

Facilities for warehousing cotton is the one thing necessary to carry out Banker Wade's plan, just as it is with the McAdoo-Cotton Conference plan. All plans lead right back to the Wilmington warehouse plan, the chief element in making cotton a credit asset. Plenty of warehouses would settle cotton problems in short order.

SECRETARY HOUSTON'S PLAN.

While everybody is concerned most in the cotton crisis of the present and the cotton problem as a general thing, Secretary of Agriculture Houston has hit upon the real plan to save the South from two problems—overproduction of cotton and under-production of food products.

Secretary Huston's proposition published in The Star yesterday ought to appeal to the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of the South. Whether we curtail cotton acreage or not, if we carry out a movement that will assure increased acreage in food crops, the South can stand a cotton problem if it persists in having one.

Following up such a practical movement as Secretary Houston urges, the South would become independent as to its bread and meat supply. It would be well enough to supply even the home demand for food products, but there is a world demand for all that would not be consumed at home.

With nine of the world's nations at war, it stands to reason that food production will be a better financial proposition next year than cotton at any price. The Secretary's plan is a decidedly constructive interjection in the present agricultural discussion, but it will require organization to carry it out. The Star moves to begin that organization at once.

Necessarily, the South will be compelled to diversify its crops. Any protracted cotton problem or recurrent crisis inevitably would destroy land values, seriously affect business and industrial prospects and generally prove detrimental to the South. Under such conditions we could hardly attract homeseekers, and the worst of it is that our young men cannot be kept in a country which is always saddling itself with an unnecessary problem.

NEW AMERICAN VESSELS.

Since the recent passage of the act of Congress providing American registry for foreign built ships, there has been registry of 62 ships. The list includes all vessels registered up to October 6th. Of the 62 ships added to the American merchant marine, 54 changed from the British flag, five from the German flag and three from the Belgian flag.

The vessels include passenger and freight steamers, tank steamers, and a few sailing craft. The home port assigned to most of the ships is New York, Boston, San Francisco, Seattle and Los Angeles got a few. Port Arthur, Texas, got four; Mobile, Ala., 2, and Guilport, Miss., one.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Let there be a sell-a-bale movement. Every man in debt should sell a bale, apply the money on account and put the money in circulation. To hold all one's cotton, unless one is out of debt, is a bad policy. Sell enough bales to meet just debts and hold the rest. —Shelby Highlander.

A cattle concern in an advertisement in yesterday's News and Observer suggested the formation of stock clubs to match the corn and tobacco clubs. It is a splendid idea. More combination that is invincible. The agricultural club movement spells penty for the good Old Noth State.—Raleigh News and Obsebver.

New York papers tell of the arrival there on Sunday of a freighter with four thousand tons of frozen beef, mutton and lamb. Shipments like they are compelled to have a tendency to lower meat prices. But for the Democratic tariff law and the influx of frozen meats from abroad because of it, the ranks of the————rians would have been swelled to a far greater degree than they have been.—Raleigh News and Observer.

One hears a lot of talk about what the State Supreme Cour will do in the Peebles contempts case, the idea being that the court will knock him. Better go slow in predicting what will happen. The higher court does not try the case; it hears the case on the law and the evidence. This is the practice in all cases. The presiding judge certifies to the correctness of the "case on appeal." Such being the fact, it may be a little bit premature to predict what the higher court will do. It is not meant that Judge Peebles will make up the case to suit himself. He is an honest man and would not attempt such a thing.—Greensboro Record.

According to newspaper reports, the farmers in Brooks county, Georgia, have gone back to the old-fashioned smoke house system of curing their bacon. As a consequence of this return to first principles, Brooks county is becoming famous for bacon. Last year the county gained considerable publicity by reason of a "bancon parade," the feature of which was a large number of farm wagons landen with the hickory-cured products of the farm smokehouses. A few years ago the Brooks county farmers marketed their hogs on the hoof. Eventually they became tired of seeing the pork which they sold for 6 to 8 sents a pound brought back in the shape of bacon and hams and soid in their own markets for 20 to 25 cents a pound. On occasions some of them were compelled to buy bacon, and they began to find fault with a commercial system which was responsible for such results. They got together and talked the matter over, and the outcome was the determination to reestablish the ante-bellum smokehouses. Now most of them are killing their hogs and curing their meats in the old-fashioned way, and through co-operation they are marketing their hogs in the finished product. They find that their profits are larger than when they sold their hogs on the hoof, despite the fact that curing the meat involves considerable labor and expense. The passing of the old-time smokehouses from so many farms is to be regretted. No better method of curing meat has been discovered. The prime product of the best-equipped modern packinghouse is not equal to the carefully cured bacon from the farm. The growth of the packing business has, in a manner, driven the farm smokehouses out of existence, but at least one county in the United States is demonstrating that real country bacon is still in demand—and that with proper system the farmers can make it and market it to their financial advantage.—Louisville Courier Journal.

THE COTTON SITUATION.

Messrs. R. H. Rountree & Co., Favor Opening the Exchange.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Oct. 8.)

One of the very best things that have been said on the existing situation in cotton is the following by R. H. Rountree & Co.:

"A friend of ours, a man of considerable means, said to us the other day: 'I have always found that when you can buy a commodity below the cost of production, due to oversupply or financial panics, considerable money is to be made by patient holding on. Now, I have $50,000 or $100,000 I'd like to invest in cotton. Tell me how to go about it.' We were obliged to reply that at the present time it would not be a simple matter as the newspapers would lead one to think. To provide for just such conditions as had now led him to desire an investment in cotton the system of dealing in futures had been devised. After many years of experiment, economic necessity had evolved a simple solution of the increasingly difficult problem of handling a billion dollars' worth of cotton without locking up enormous sums of money. By the use of credit, the very backbone of the financial structure, the cotton exchanges of the world were able to look after a crop of 15,000,000 or 16,000,000 bales with a minimum price derangement. But these exchanges were now closed and as a result the cotton trade of the country had been thrown back upon primitive methods. Instead of his being able to place an order for 5,000 bales of cotton, contract delivery next May, he would be obliged to do one of two things; first, either spend a few years learning the value of the various grades of cotton, or, second, trust some agent to start South and pick up a thousand bales or so. After the cotton had been bought and paid for he would have to see that it was properly stored, that it was adequately insured, and then, at some distant date, effect a sale, probably a few hundred bales at a time. It is not difficult to guess the tenor of his remarks, 'I can't assume all that risk and responsibility with a commodity I know nothing about.'

"There are hundreds of such cases in the country today. In spite of the fact that a cannon ball has in a day shattered the most delicate creation of modern business, the exchange, there is nevertheless a large body of capitalists whose resources would be available if facilities for speculative investment existed. It is not alone the cutting off of the South from Europe that is demoralizing the price of cotton. It is also because there is no medium by which an investing public can take part of the load. Of what avail is the ultimate success of this 'buy-a-bale' movement, good as it is, whereby a few thousand bales are taken from a 15,000,000 bale crop, when compared with the purchase of hundreds of thousands, and even millions of bales through the ordinary mechanism of the exchange?

"Our 40 years' business experience has only served to demonstrate what the most superficial observation affirms, namely, that the average individual is an optimist, giving evidence in his commercial undertakings that the qualities of confidence, faith and hope are the ruling traits of mankind; while their negation, distrust, uncertainty, despair, are the exception. It is because of this predominant characteristic of human nature expressed in all business relations that four out of five traders in cotton are buyers, not sellers. The net result of this very fundamental law of mankind has been to supply the South, through the exchange, with a buying power that has brought higher prices for cotton than could have been obtained otherwise. Now that the Cotton Exchange has closed is not this truism becoming increasingly evident to every grower of cotton in the United States?"

It is a rare thing that an office seeks the man but we know a North Carolina judgeship which came unsought and was lucky enough to be accepted. The bar lost but the bench gained.

The Asheboro Courier tells about a cotton stalk bearing seven godd sized ears of corn. Probably the selected seed from some one or all those seven years will prove to be the foundation of a prolific variety. Seed selection is one of the most vital features of farming. We know because we know a farmer who knows and has made a success by experience.

To Shippers and Receivers of Freight IN NORTH CAROLINA

On October 13th, 1914, the provisions of the new North Carolina Freight Rate Law (Chapter 20, Public Laws, Extra Session of 1913), familiarly known as the "Justice Act," becomes effective under the proclamation of the Governor of North Carolina. New tariffs of rates for the transportation of freight between points in the State of North Carolina will be filed with the North Carolina Corporation Commission, and with all the Agents of the undersigned Railroad Company on said date.

The provisions of the new Law make some radical changes in the tnasportation of freight within this State, and in order to prevent confusion on the part of the shippers and receivers of freight it is deemed proper to call these changes to their attention. In addition to the changes made in the rates heretofore existing, the new Law prohibits one railroad from meeting specific competitive rates of another rail or water line, unless intermediate rates are reduced to the same level, and to this extent competition between different routes will hereafter be prevented by the Law of North Carolina.

Special attention is called to the new form of these tariffs. They require that when freight is to be transported over a joint haul by more than one carrier, the shortest route must be used in order to secure the lowest rate. If the shipper does not desire his freight forwarded by the shortest route indicated in the tariff, but desires it forwarded by another route, it will be so forwarded, but the rate charged must be for the actual distance by the route directed by the shipper, even though it be the longer route.

Freight transported between points on this line will, under the terms of the Law, be forwarded by the route over which this line's shortest distance is obtained, and the rate of this line for said shortest distance will be applied unless the shipper instructs that the freight be forwarded by another route, in which case the freight will be so forwarded, and the rate applicable by said other route will be applied. If a shipment is tendered to an agent of this line without routing instructions, destined to a point reached by this line, it will be assumed that it is the desire of the shipper that the freight be transported entirely over this line, even at a higher rate than may be obtainable if forwarded via another route. On shipments so forwarded without specific instructions from the shipper, this Company may not, under the Law, entertain claims for overcharge on basis of the lower rate applicable via another route.

SURGEON GEN. BLUE WILMINGTON VISITOR

Head of United States Public Health Service Was Here

Spent Thursday and Yesterday Inspecting Marine Hospital and Quarnatine Station—North Carolinian.

Surgeon General Rupert Blue, head of the United States Public Health Service, spent Thursday and yesterday in the city and at Southport, inspecting the United States marine hospital here and the government quarantine station at the mouth of the Cape Fear. He left the city last evening to return to Washington.

General Blue's inspection of the government institutions under the public health service is a routine duty, and he is now engaged in making these routine visits to the government hospitals, etc., all over the country. He has recently inspected the marine hospital at Savannah, Ga., and the United States hospital for the study of pellagra at Spartanburg, S. C.

The Surgeon General arrived in the city Thursday and made the inspection of the marine hospital here. He also looked into the scientific investigation and study now being conducted at the marine hospital by Dr. C. W. Stiles and his assistants.

Thursday afternoon General Blue, Dr. C. W. Stiles, Dr. W. F. Keister and Dr. C. E. Conner left for Southport, making the trip through the country in Dr. Stiles' car. The run was made without inconvenience, despite the unfavorable condition of the roads through Brunswick county.

Yesterday morning General Blue inspected the quarantine station at Southport, in charge of Dr. Doscher, and later in the day the party left for Wilmington, returning through the country and arriving here yesterday afternoon.

Surgeon General Rupert Blue is a native North Carolinian, though his legal residence is now South Carolina. He is related to a number of prominent Wilmington families, including Mr. William Gilchrist and others, and while here he visited some of his kinsmen.

He has occupied the office he now holds since the Wilson administration took charge, receiving his appointment at the hands of President Wilson, and has done splendid work through the Public Health Service. He was in charge of the government's prompt fight which stamped out the threatened epidemic of bubonic plague in New Orleans several months ago.

This is General Blue's first visit to Wilmington in his official capacity, and in fact, his first visit for quite a number of years. He was given a ride around the city by Dr. Stiles during his visit, and was much impressed with the progress that the city has made since he was last here. He remarked to Dr. Stiles on the many evidences of progress and development noticeable, and congratulated the citizens of Wilmington on the growth that has marked Wilmington during the past few years.

PRAYER FOR JUDGEMENT.

Daniels-Althers Affray Settled—Other Cases Yesterday.

In the Recorder's Court yesterday, prayer for judgment was continued in a case against Geo. Daniels, white, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Dolan Althers, white, several weeks ago, was continued upon payment of costs, when Daniels exhibited receipts, etc., to how that he had paid Althers' hospital bill, amounting to about $75, bought him a suit of clothes and paid his way to his home at Washington, D. C.

A case against Althers, also charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, was called and failed, and a capias was issued. It is understood that Althers has returned to his home at Washington. The two young white men, it will be remembered, engaged in an affray on Second street several weeks ago, when Daniels slashed Althers across the abdomen with a knife, inflicting a serious wound.

H. F. Crandle and J. E. Johnson, both white, were taxed one-half the costs each yesterday morning for engaging in an affray. Each was required to pay the costs for being drunk. A case against Eddie Hall, charged with violating a traffic ordinance, was nol prossed. A larceny case against Roy Johnson, colored, was continued until today.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY HORNE

Beloved Woman of Federal Point An-Sewers Summons.

Friends in the city have been grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Mary L. Horne, which occurred at her home on the Carolina Beach road yesterday morning at an early hour.

Mrs. Horne, who was 80 years of age, had been ill for some months, and death resulted from causes attendant upon old age. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Davis, of Rock Point, and Mrs. D. W. Trask, of Masonboro. A number of nephews and nieces also survive, including Mr. William Horne, of Fayetteville, who was expected to arrive last night to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Horne was widely known throughout the county, and was held in the highest esteem and admiration by all who were acquainted with her many noble and endearing traits of character.

The funeral will be held from the home this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and interment will be dn the family burying ground. Rev. P. D. Gold, of Wilson, of the Primitive Baptist Church, will be in charge of the services.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Wrightsville Beach & Suburban Development Company to Mary Treat Stevenson, for $1,200 and other considerations, lot on Wrightsville Beach; L. R. Mason and wife to Ida M. Davis and others, of Haverhill City, Mass., for $1,500 and other considerations, tract in Harnett township, on Middle Sound, containing 16 1-2 acres.

Funeral of Miss Annie Hill.

The funeral of Miss Annie R. Hill, whose death occurred Thursday night, will be held from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Hill, No. 516 Queen street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor Southside Baptist Church, will conduct the service. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

URGE WORK ON CUSTOM HOUSE

Committee of Prominent Wilmingtonians Return From Satisfactory Conferences in Washington, D. C.

A strong committee from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, Messrs. William Gilchrist, H. C. McQueen, M. J. Corbett and M. W. Divine, returned yesterday morning from Washington, D. C., where on Thursday they conferred at length with Senators Simmons and Overman and Representative Godwin with reference to an early beginning of work on Wilmington's handsome new custom house, the presence of these gentlemen in Washington having been referred to at some length in the Washington correspondence of yesterday's Star.

Members of the committee yesterday reported excellent prospects of getting the new custom house started, and this news will be received with peculiar pleasure just at this time when any kind of construction work will contribute to the sum total of industry. Members of the committee showed conclusively to Messrs. Simmons, Overman and Godwin, from the Treasury and other United States officials that the present building is unsanitary and unfit for use, one of the government inspectors going so far as to say the present custom house quarters at Wilmington are a disgrace to the United States government.

The committee urged the Senators and Representative Godwin to take up the question with the Treasury Department and insist on the beginning of the new building without further delay and they agreed to push the matter vigorously.

The appropriation of $600,000 was made two years or more ago and the building should have been under way long before this, in the view of the people of Wilmington, who have been surprised at what appears to be an unwarranted delay by the government.

SOUTH CAROLINA ASSEMBLY

Palmetto Legislature is Giving Attention to Cotton Situation

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 8.—Bills to submit to referendum vote the elimination of cotton planting in this state next year, and another to limit cultivation of cotton to four acres for each working animal were prepared by the special committee of the South Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Congress for introduction today in the legislature. "The bill limiting production to four acres per animal will be passed irrespective of action by other cotton producing states," said Wade Stackhouse president of the division.

The senate finance committee is prepared to report unfavorably on bills authorizing the state to borrow $1,250,000 to liquidate obligations and to extend time for payment on 1914 state taxes to December 31, 1915, it was announced.

Columbia S. C., Oct. 8.—A resolution memorializing congress to authorize the United States treasury to lend the state of South Carolina $25,000,000 under certain restrictions, was introduced today in the extraordinary session of the general assembly. Action was deferred until Friday.

TICKETS NOW ON SALE.

For Opening Number of Brigade Lyceum Course.

Reserve seats for the opening number of the Boys' Brigade Lyceum Course go on sale at Munson & Company's this morning at 8 o'clock. As every seat in the house has been sold for the entire season there will probably be a rush for reserve seats, as there will be few choice seats left after the doors open Monday night. Those who wish to avoid a long wait Monday night and who wish a choice of the best seats can have these reserved by taking their season tickets to Munson's and have them punched and by paying a small charge for the accommodation.

As all the tickets for the season are sold, no more can be had except from somebody who may wish to dispose of theirs. Nobody will be admitted to these concerts except those who hold season tickets and no single tickets will be sold at the door. Ticket holders are also notified that very small children will not be admitted to these entertainments, and parents are requested not to take such small children with them. This is not a new ruling as it has been in force since the beginning of this courst and was instituted for the purpose of preventing the disturbance of the audience and entertainers which invariably occurs when small children are admitted. There is no deviation from this rule.

DANGER FROM MINES.

Shipping Warned by the Treasury Department.

The following notice has been issued by the Treasury Department of the United States:

"The Treasury Department has been informed through diplomatic channels that on account of mine fields it will be dangerous henceforth for ships to cross the area between latitude 51 degrees, 15 minutes north and 51 degrees, 40 minutes north of longitude, one degree, 35 minutes east and three degrees east; also that the southern limit of another mine field is latitude 52 degrees north, but that although these limits are assigned to the danger area, it must not be supposed that navigation is safe in any part of the southern waters of the North Sea."

BEGIN WINTER WORK.

Cape Fear Council, U. C. T., Meets This Evening.

The regular monthly meeting of Cape Fear Council, No. 374, United Commercial Travelers, beginning the Fall and Winter Campaign of the orgnization, will be held in the Council Hall tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The local U. C. T. Council is a strong one, and it has planned to make the coming fall and winter season the best in the history of the organization. All members are urgently requested to be in attendance at the meeting this evening.

Commission House Entered.

The commission house of Anderson & Company, No. 619 Nutt street, was entered by storebreakers Thursday night, and a quantity of potatoes, corn, hay, etc., carted away. The entrance was effected through the back door. As yet it is not known how much the stolen goods amount to, but it is thought to be at least $75. The matter was reported to the police yesterday morning, and officers are working on the case.

Take your time—but come today. Sale lasts nine days longer. Everything will be sold at some price. I. C. Loftin, Trustee, G. Henry Haar, — Advertisement.

SPLENDID ANNUAL MEETING

Wilmington Baptist Association Will Meet Next Year at Long Creek Baptist Church.

The annual meeting of the Wilmington Baptist Association, in session at Jacksonville, N. C., since Tuesday evening, came to a close Thursday afternoon, adjourning to meet next at Long Creek Baptist Church on the Wednesday following the first Sunday in October, 1915.

The meeting just closed, according to the local delegates, was one of the best in years, not only from the standpoint of a splendid attendance, but also in the many valuable features brought out in the various speeches and discussions, and the excellent reports from the churches represented.

Out of a total of about 30 churches in the district 24 were represented, and fine reports were made by all of them, showing that much had been accomplished throughout the district during the past year.

The discussion held during the meeting centered around the subjects of Home, State and Foreign missions, the schools and orphanage work, temperance work and religious literature.

The Association heard an address by W. N. J. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist Church at Wake Forest, and voted to subscribe $500 toward the new $48,000 church building to be erected there. An address by Rev. D. W. Herring, a Baptist Missionary, to China, home on a furlough, on the subject of missions, was also a feature. There were a number of other interesting features.

The delegates to the meeting were most hospitably entertained by the citizens of Jacksonville.

"FINE FEATHERS" PLEASES.

Presented at Academy of Music Last Night by Strong Company.

Full of action and intensely dramatic situations is "Fine Feathers" which was presented at the Academy of Music last night by a company of players that is much above the average. There was not a large audience but those who did go expressed no regret. It's tragedy for the most part, but there is enough comedy to furnish many laughs. There are times when the interest is keyed up almost to the breaking point and occasionally the ladies found a hankerchief convenient.

The cost is well balanced and each and everyone plays his or her part unusually well. Marise Naughton as Jane Reynolds has a hard part to play, but she is always equal to the occasion. Allen Leiber as Robert Reynolds and R. E. Lee Hill as John Brand, a business man, both are fine. By no means should Marjorie Maxwell, the neighbor, be left out. She is typically Irish to the core and always ready to have her say. Thurlow White as Dick Mead, the young newspaper man, is bright, breezy and always ready with just the right suggestion. Agnes Elliott as the servant, who constantly says 'yessum' to every question brings many laughs.

The play deals with those problems that are supposed to confront many young married people—and no doubt do. The press agent advertised the play as one of rapid action and with many changes in atmosphere. In that he is right and because this is true it requires real artistic ability to present the play.

The play seems always to be pointing towards a moral, but is true to human life in that it never reaches a concrete moral truth in just the form that the story books would have it. The different influences involved become twined and intertwined so that one wonders how they are all to be dissected and as in real life they are left at the end of the play unsolved. For those interested in the questions that confront those living in the midst of a complicated civilization, the play furnishes an ideal means and is well worth seeing.

FIELD AGENT APPOINTMENT.

Congressman Godwin Has Notice of Important Civil Service Exam.

Congressman H. L. Godwin, of this district, is in receipt of a letter from the Secretary of Agriculture, calling his attention to an examination to be held at Wilmington and other places in the State on November 4th, for filling the position of field agent in the Bureau of Crop Estimates for the State of North Carolina. The initial salary for the position will be $1,608 per annum and those desiring to take the examination will be requested to submit satisfactory evidence of at least five years' practical experience in farming and has an educational training equivalent to a four-year course in college or university of recognized standing, or (b) at least three years' responsible practical experience in work involving statistical methods of statistical inquiry, or (c) experience as a State Statistical Agent in the Department of Agriculture.

The examination will consist of questions designed to test the candidate's practical knowledge of agriculture, arithmentic, crop-reporting methods and his general education and experience. Competitors who have had exceptional practical experience or education in agriculture will receive additional credit, and will be given preference in making appointments. Subject to these conditions, anyone will be admitted to the examination who has reached his 25th birthday.

A field agent is required to travel the greater part of his time through the agricultural sections of his State, personally observing crop conditions in the field and making inquiry of those best informed regarding crops and live stock in each locality; to maintain a list of several hundred crop reporters who submit their reports to him and he in turn making report monthly to the Department.

The United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, can give any additional information as to the examination, etc.

Boy Scouts on Hike.

Members of Wilmington troop, No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, will take a hike this morning into the wilds of Brunswick county, and the young fellows are anticipating a most enjoyable trip. Mr. O. B. Hinnant, the scout master, will demonstrate cooking in the woods, first aid to the injured and the method of finding ones way when lost in the woods, as well as other Scout accomplishments. This is the first of a series of hikes planned by the troop.

CIVIL DOCKET CONGESTED

Eight Suits Started in Superior Court Yesterday—Claim and Delivery Proceedings.

What little progress was made at the last term of Superior Court toward relieving the congested condition of the civil docket in New Hanover county bids fair to be effaced by the numerous suits that are piling up, and when the next term of court for the trial of civil cases convenes October 26th, from present indications, the docket will be more crowded than ever.

No less than eight suits were started yesterday, this being the record number for the clerk's office for some time past.

The Tidewater Power Company, represented by Davis & Davis, started claim and delivery proceedings against H. T. Bauman, receiver for the Wilmington Ice & Storage Company, for several electric motors and attachments. The papers in the case were served through the sheriff's office.

H. O. Peterson took out claim and delivery papers against B. W. Applewhite for the possession of a horse. Kellum & Loughlin represent the plaintiff. The papers were served yesterday by Sheriff Cowan's officers.

The Shedd & Wright Manufacturing Company, through W. P. M. Turner, Esq., their attorney, started suit against the Globe Baking Company. The complaint was not filed.

Herbert McClammy, Esq., as attorney for the plaintiffs, started suits as follows:

Minnie Law against John Law, divorce proceedings.

Frank Brown against John Haar, executor of Mary Christ.

Chas. Schafer and Chas. Schafer, Jr., trading as Chas. Schafer & Son, against B. C. Glass.

Chas. Schafer and Chas. Schafer, Jr., trading as Chas. Schafer & Son, against E. P. Fearington.

Thos. H. Wright, trading as J. G. Wright & Son, against Kidder Lumber Company.

GRADUATION DAY.

Interesting Exercises by Children of First Baptist Sunday School.

Tomorrow morning at the usual Sunday School hour, 9:45 A. M., the primary department of the First Baptist Sunday School will observe Graduation Day. A class of 19 girls and boys will graduate from the primary department. The children have studied hard and are well prepared. Aside from the usual graduation exercise there will be on the programme songs and recitations by some of the children from the primary department.

The class is composed of the following children: Little Misses Carrie McLean Taylor, Helen Foster, Willie Jones, Jennie Mae Hartsfield, Lina McEachern, Adrene Hanby, Leona Colwell, Alice Phelps, Sarah Love, Louise Stevens and Maybelle Groves; Masters Robert Kenneth Scott, James King, Robert Bloome, Charles Greer, J. D. Vann, Thomas Gregg O'Neal, Wilbur Phelps and Humphrey Marshall.

The class extends a cordial invitation to everybody to attend these exercises.

Interest Growing in Services.

Interest continues to grow in the revival services at Bladen street Mthodist Church, and another large congregation heard Rev. B. E. Stanfield, of Fairmont, preach a strong and impressive sermon last evening. His text was from Amos, 4:12, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." There will be no service tonight, but several services will be held tomorrow. At 10 o'clock there will be a love feast service, and at 11 A. M. Mr. Stanfield will preach Sunday School and Decision Day services will be held and at 7:45 there will be another preaching service by Mr. Stanfield. Following this the doors of the church will be thrown open to receive new members.

Work on Extension.

Work on the Red Cross street car line extension to Oakdale cemetery is going forward quite rapidly. The track has been granted and rails laid from Fourth to 10th street, and the grading is now being done from 10th to Wood. With most of the work done, 90 of the 140 men who have been working on the job were laid off by the Tidewater Power Company yesterday morning. It is stated that the extension will be completed in about two weeks.

Large Crowds at Haar's Sale.

The opening day at the closing out sale of the G. Henry Haar stock on Chesnut street yesterday brought such large crowds that the doors of the store had to be closed for several hours during the day, in order that the stock might be placed in order. The sale opened at 9:30 and by 11:30 o'clock the crowd was so great as to almost prohibit the accomodation of purchasers. The doors were closed until 2:30 and another large crowd was present in the afternnoon. The sale will continue for nine more days.

Growing
In our business shows that still more people are opening accounts with us. We are daily adding new names to our already long list of depositors. There is a good reason for this. It is this: They have found the road to wealth is by the way of the bank account; and that we, by our uniformly conservative methods, our courteous treatment of our customers, our steady increase in strength, have proven that this is the place to open that account. We want your account.

FIRST GOLF TOURNAMENT ON CAPE FEAR LINKS.

Golf enthusiasts in Wilmington are looking forward with much pleasure to the first tournament of the Cape Fear Golf Club which will be played on their links in East Wilmington this afternoon immediately after the arrival of the 2 o'clock car from the city. In spite of the fact that the opening tournament of the club has not heretofore been held until November, many players have expressed their intention of entering and it is expected that there will be quite a crowd present.

The tournament will be an 18-hole sweepstakes and will be rather a novel event in that it will be played without any ground rules whatever. All the players will be compelled to play their balls wherever found; subject, of course, to the regular rules of golf.

WHITEVILLE WOMEN JOIN "WEAR COTTON" MOVEMENT

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 9.—The Whiteville Women's Club, of which Mrs. A. Elmo Powell is president and Miss Anna Reade Lewis is secretary, at its regular meeting this week, dispensed with the regular programme and the discussion of the "wear cotton" movement was made the order. The actions of the women in the various parts of the country was talked over and as a finality the following resolution, which is probably the first of its kind passed by a similar organization in the State of North Carolina, was passed:

"Whereas, we the members of the Women's club of Whiteville, realize the serious situation our fathers have been placed in by the European war decreasing the demand for cotton and coton products, and,

"Whereas, we are in accord with Southern Women's wear cotton movement, therefore be it

"Resolved, that we do hereby pledge ourselves to the use of cotton fabrics for wearing apparel and all domestic purposes, so far as practical."

There was a full attendance of the club at the meeting and it was enlivened by very able discussions and addresses on the cotton question. The Woman's club has been one of the real boosters of Whiteville and Columbus county and during the life of their organization a great deal for the benefit of the town and community has been done by them.

MR. J. B. HAMAN AND BRIDE ARRIVED HERE YESTERDAY

Mr. James Blanding Haman, telegraph editor of The Morning Star, and Mrs. Haman, arrived in the city yesterday morning from Vaiden, Miss. Mrs. Haman before her marriage was Miss Annie Juanita Armstrong, of Vaiden, Miss. The wedding took place Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Armstrong. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. L. Haman, father of the groom. The wedding was very quiet, being attended only by immediate members of the family.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance starting during their school days at Vaiden, where the father of the groom resides, being pastor of the Presbyterian church there. Mr. Haman has for the last several years resided in the North State. He was for some time editor of the Southport News, and about a year ago became telegraph editor of The Morning Star.

A month ago he left for Mississippi to spend a month at his old home with his parents. He did not intimate to the slightest degree to his colleagues on the staff of the Morning Star his intention of also returning to get his bride, but it seems that such was the case.

Since his residence in Wilmington Mr. Haman has made a host of friends who will extend warm congratulations to him and his bride, a young woman of charming personalty with a host of friends in her native state, and who will most cordially welcome her as a resident of Wilmington.

JACKSON-FONVEILLE WEDDING NEAR JACKSONVILLE, N. C.

Jacksonville, N. C., Oct. 5.—"Grenoe Farm" the lovely country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Fonveille, near Jacksonville, was the scene of a marriage of much interest to friends on September 30th, on account of the popularity of both parties throughout the State. On the date named Mr. Jesse Luther Jackson, of Kinston, N. C., led to the altar Miss Mary Borden Fonveille.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants with long-leaf pine and quantities of golden rod which carried out tastefully the color scheme of yellow, green and white. The ceremony was a quiet home affair, being witnessed only by a few of the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The two ushers, Mr. Louis Fonveille, brother of the bride, and Mr. Leslie Ketchum, of Jacksonville, entered the parlor and took their stand at the altar to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss Virginia Kendall, of Goldsboro.

Immediately following them came the bride, leaning on the arm of the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in a dark blue coat suit with accessories to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Blanchard, of Kinston, during which Traumerei was softly and sweetly played. The happy young couple left the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and immediately left for their future home in Kinston.

BEAUTIFUL EVENING CHURCH WEDDING OF POPULAR COUPLE.

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 9.—St. Stephens' Episcopal church was thronged to its capacity last night at 8 o'clock with the elite of our city to witness the marriage of Miss Mabel King, the popular and beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. King, of this city, and Mr. Hamilton Underwood, of Fayetteville, who has made Goldsboro his home for several years, being associated with the Goldsboro Drug Company, and who has built up a wide circle of friends since coming to our city.

The church for this happy and attractive event was a dream of loveliness in its profuse yet artistic decorations of golden rod, yellow dahlias, ferns and palms, the color scheme of the marriage being yellow and green. The altar was banked in golden rod and ferns and topped by a bar of white roses with a background of ferns, and over these the light of cathedral candles shed their soft glow, giving to the scene a mystic and mellowed effect sweetly harmonizing with the mystical union about to be consummated between the bridal pair soon to approach the altar.

Just before the ceremony a vested quartette composed of Misses Bessie Bronson and Mildred Edmundson, Leslie Yelverton and John Arment, with Mrs. Dewey Slocumb presiding at the big pipe organ, sang in sweetest harmony the Bridal Chorus, at the conclusion of which the organ pealed forth the notes of the bridal march and the procession approached the altar, first a bridesmaid and then two groomsmen, in the following order: Miss Emma Jeffreys, Messrs. Benj. Huske and Edwin Lee; Miss Eunice Edmundson, Messrs. Spencer Currie and James Harris; Miss Janie Underwood, Messrs. Robt. Parrott and George Daniels. Mrs. Robert Parrott, dame of honor, carrying shower bouquet of brides roses; Miss Lillian Fountain, maid of honor, carrying a bouquet of white roses and ferns.

Then came the little flowers girls, Olive Fountain, and Mary Miller Falkener.

Then with her father, came the beautiful young bride, gowned in white charmeuse, entrain, with Duchess lace waist, spangled with rhine stones, and flowing bridal veil, and wearing the rich diamond and pearl brooch, the gift of the groom.

Just as she neared the chancel, where stood in waiting the officiating minister, Rev. J. H. Dickinson, the groom with his best man, his brother, Mr. Jos. B. Underwood, entered from the vestry and received his bride at the chancel rail, where the mutual bridal vows were spoken, with the ring service, to the mellow and soft refrain of the organ.

The grouping at the altar was indeed a lovely and impressive scene, of the highest social culture and religious significance, and the personnel of beautiful young women and gallant young men, all in full evening dress, surely could not be surpassed.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where an informal but most enjoyable reception to the bridal party was held between the hours of the ceremony and the northgoing train; and where one of the features of absorbing interest was the cutting of the bridal cake, for the ring, the money and the thimble, and where, also, was another unusual feature—the serving of punch flavored with scuppernong wine 27 years old, that was put up by the bride's father the year of his own marriage and carefully preserved during all this time, and it was indeed delicious. The display of bridal presents, too, was exceedingly beautiful and embraced a massive chest of flat silver table service, the gift of the groom's family, cut glass, china, vases, clocks, linen, in fact, such a galaxy of lovely things as beggars description, but eloquently testifying to the widespread popularity of the happy young couple, who took the northbound train over the Atlantic Coast Line, amidst a pelting shower of rice, for Washington, New York, and Boston, and on their return will be at home to their friends with the bride's parents here.

Out-of-town visitors here for the happy event were Dr. and Mrs. David McKeethan, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Morris, Mr. Jos. B. Underwood and Miss Janie Underwood, Benj. Huske and Spencer Currie, of Fayetteville; Miss Estelle Hawkins, Mrs. John E. King, Mrs. Fannie Joyner, Messrs. J. L. Fountain, John Pollard and Jas. Jayner, of Farmville; Mrs. J. L. Fountain, Misses Lillian and Olive Fountain, of Raleigh; Messrs. James Harris and George Underwood, of Charlotte; Misses Lizzie Higgs and Mattie Moye King, of Greenville; Miss Louise Chalkley and Mr. J. C. Givens, of Richmond; Mr. Green S. Johnston, of Tallahassee, Fla.; and the old "black mammy", Ann King, of Farmville, who nursed the bride in her infancy, and came to be at her wedding.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. T. E. Conrad, of Richmond, was in the city yesterday a guest at The Orton.

—Mr. R. Y. McPherson, of Raleigh, was among yesterday's arrivals, a guest at The Orton.

—Mr. D. C. Fennell nd Wife, of Tarboro, N. C., were here yesterday and were stopping at The Orton.

—Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Johnson, of Lumberton, were among yesterday's visitors to the city, guests at The Orton.

Men's Meeting at Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be the speaker at the men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow afternoon at 4:50 o'clock. Special music is planned for the meeting, and cordial invitation is extended the young men of the city to attend. The Sunday afternoon meetings last Fall and Winter became very popular, and it is planned to make them even more so this year.

SUNDAY SERVICES

You enrich life by thinking about God, and listening to His voice as He speaks in His Book. And the message comes with peculiar force the church. Look back over a period of years, and recall the impressions you have received in church and think how much better you have been on account of them than you would have been without them.

In fact, the church has a large influence in every man's life in a Christian community. Therefore, he should see the wisdom of attending the services of the church. The obligation is upon him, and he should view it honestly.

First Presbyterian Church, Third and Orange streets, Rev. Jno. M. Wells, D. D., pastor: Services tomorrow at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Dr. Wells will preach at both services. Sunday School at 9:50 A. M. THEATRICAL

Another mammoth Saturday bill will greet the week-end throngs at Wilmington's most popular movie theatre this afternoon and tonight, consisting of four big reels of the biggest, brightest and best motion pictures that have been released during the present season, and headed by one of the biggest two-reel features of the year, a special release by the Eclair Players.

The top-liner is "The Aztec Treasure" and comes to the Bijou bearing the brand of the Eclair Feature Players, the biggest aggregation of stars connected with the great Universal aggregation of moving picture companies. They specialize in big two, three and four reel features, and this is one of the most noted of their releases in recent weeks, in two full reels. It shows in the leading roles such screen stars as Fred Hearne, Hal Wilson, Edna Payne and Robt. Frazer, and this guarantees something entirely out of the ordinary run of pictures. It's a winner—has been wherever shown, and is right out of a record run in the biggest cities.

A rousing big Nestor comedy, "Fruits and Flowers" comes next on the bill, and is a full reel in length. It features that popular pair, Eddie Lyons and Victoria Forde in the leading roles. It's a production of that famous leader of movies, Al Christie, which guarantees a corker.

Then there's that rousing one-reel Keystone comedy number, "The Coat's Tale" that is a continuous roar from start to finish, and will simply make you roll and roar.

Great Saturday at the Grand.

This is going to be a big week-end at the people's favorite amusement resort—the handsome, humming along Grand. A superb collection of film sensations will be offered and the price of admission will be but 5 cents, to grown-ups and children alike and whether they go afternoon or night. The films were especially selected to prove a great Saturday and amusement lovers do not want to go shy on the show. It is a bill of swell variety. One that will not only thrill one minute, while causing roars of laughter the next, but which will prove decidedly instructive, as the very latest Hearst-Selig Pictorial Review, setting forth in graphic movie style the latest current events, will be flashed on the screen. These views include pictuges of the flight of Victoriano Huerta from Mexico and are especially interesting and profitable in view of the present Mexican situation.

"The Wire Chief's Reward" is the leading dramatic on today and it is the best thing the Kalem folks have ever gotten out. It is a stirrer and will thrill every being. Clever Carlyle Blackwell appears in the star role and does a masterly piece of acting.

Lubin furnishes a rib-tickler of great power in "The Walko Sisters," and it is a scream from start to finish. It is something entirely new in the way of a big laughfest. There are other dandy films today, too.

The Victoria's Great Show.

This is going to be an especially big day for the amusement lovers of Wilmington in that the Victoria Theatre has on one of the greatest and brightest of vaudeville shows that has not only ever adorned a Wilmington stage, but that has ever come South. It is a show that is clever in every way and is headed by a most distinguished act, as such goes in the realm of vaudeville. This act is presented by the celebrated Four MacNallys and is a startling melange of feats of daring and skill on the slack wire and in other ways. The MacNallys are known to fame not only in the United States, but in Europe. Every one should see their act and the children particularly should be carried to the matinee this afternoon. Another swell act, a rousingly funny one is provided by Gussie Linder and Joseph Howard, two of the cleverest comedy folks in the biz. Joseph Howard is known as one of the best of German comedians.

Another great fun artist shining on the bill is that "big fellow in cork." Harry Murphy, while Belle Carmen, the banjoist, is also a headliner. It can be seen from this array that the present show is a corker in the way of vaudeville. In addition to all this, two new reels of pictures will be presented and the Victoria's superb orchestra will offer a programme of up-to-date numbers.

"Peg O' My Heart."

So eager is the desire of local theatregoers to witness a performance of J. Hartley Manners' remarkable comedy "Peg O' My Heart" which is announced to appear at the Academy of Music next Monday, October 12th for one performance only that it looks as though the house will be virtually sold out when the seat sale opens at the Woodall and Shephard tomorrow morning. Pending the opening of the regular box office sale, Manager Comes has been flooded with mail orders. Mr. Manners story deals with the fortunes of a little Irish girl being educated by a proud unnatural family. Peg, is a jolly, impetuous lass, with a fascinating brogue. The situations into which she gets herself and the way in which she gets out of them, were not intended for cracked lips. The presenting company was engaged by Oliver Morosco, in view of fitting the roles with players that best represented the types. So well do they fit these parts, that we are to see the same well balanced cast that appeared to great advantage here last seson. The compny comprises Miss Blanche Hall as "Peg," Ruth Gartland as "Ethel Chichester" Alma Chester, as "Mrs. Chichester," Joseph Allenton, as "Alaric," Pelham Linton as "Christian Brent," J. Irving White, as the "solicitor," and Mr. Fred L. Bruce-Tiden, as "Jerry." The cast and production are surely worth-while, having won the stamp of approval wherever they have played.

MAY DEMAND COMPENSATION

Reported That City Will be Asked to Pay for Improvements at Carolina Heights if Annexed.

A current report that the Bridgers estate will demand payment from the city for the improved streets and water and sewerage systems at Carolina Heights when that suburb is taken into the corporate limits is neither confirmed nor denied by Burke H. Bridgers, agent for the estate, who declines to discuss the matter other than in general terms, stating that he does not care to precipitate a controversy about the question.

The rumor has it that the estate will not consent to the city's use of the streets and water and sewerage systems without compensation, as the title to the streets and the water and sewer system remains with the estate.

It is also the intention of the American Suburban Corporation, developers of Carolina Place, to take similar action action in regard to their property, according to the rumor, but Jas. Owen Reilly, their local agent, says that thus far he has received no such intfmation from the company.

Delining to discuss the matter from a positive standpoint on the ground that he did not wish to precipitate a controversy, Mr. Bridgers said yesterday, speaking in general terms, that in his opinion Carolina Heights had more ground for demanding compensation than did Carolina Place, the former suburb being in a much higher state of development. He pointed out that Carolina Heights already has improved streets and water and sewerage system, and if taken in at the next session of the Legislature, as it is expected will be the case, will not have to call on the city for improvements whereas Carolina Place would need streets laid and a sewerage system installed, as well as lights furnished, made, ed. For these improvement, when made, the citizens of Carolina Heights would have to help pay for, along with the other citizens of Wilmington.

Mr. Bridgers suggests that if the corporate limits of the city are to be extended, that the extension be made along lines so as to take in at least double the area of the present city territory. He suggests Smith's Creek as the Northern boundary line and Greenfield Lake the Southern, with the eastern line in porportion to these. Mr. Bridgers points out that Charlotte and Raleigh, in extending their corporate limits, have doubled their territory.

SOUTHERN SPOTS LOWER

Cotton Exchange Managers Approve Amendments to By-Laws to Conform to Federal Law.

New York, Oct. 9.—The board of managers of the cotton exchange have approved amendments to the by-laws creating a contract meeting the requirements of the United States cotton futures law and also increasing the commission rate on outside business. Members of the exchange are to vote upon these changes on October 19 and it is anticipated that they will be adopted without opposition. Meanwhile a proposal is being considered to confine all trading in old style contracts to liquidation when the market reopens for business.

Southern spot markets were generally lower today. Some of the local spot dealers however, reported that their offers from the south were about the same as yesterday. Exports were light, but the into-sight is still running far behind last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, Oct. 9.—Cotton again stood at a decline today, spots losing ¼ to 1c. and futures falling to 7.43 on actual sales for January, the lowest prices since the European war started. Weakness of actual cotton in the interior was the main reason for the lower prices. In addition, the increase in the movment into sight caused unfavorable comment, although the into-sight was still small, compared with what it ordinarily is at this time of the year. Hester made the into-sight for the week 323,589 bales, against 552,482 this week last year.

The heavy sales at interior spot markets at wide declines were taken to mean that offerings were too liberal for the demand. Late in the day it was said that bids of 7.40 for January would have resulted in trading.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Oct. 9.—Cotton goods were a little more active today. Yarns were quiet and wools higher. Silk trade was steady and quiet.

EMERGENCY CURRENCY FELT

Productive of Greater Ease at All Reserve Centers and Activity in Investment Field.

New York, Oct. 9.—Liberal buying of the New York city notes and a broader inquiry for various bonds, maturing within the next few years, were the chief features of financial interest today. The demand came largely from out of town banks.

The amount of emergency currency now outstanding has been productive of greater ease at all reserve centers, and this condition is finding an outlet in the investment field.

The time money was in better supply because of the relatively better position of the local banks, which are expected to report another large cash gain tomorrow. Some thirty-day loans were made at 6½ per cent on collateral of the highest grade, but renewals again ranged from 6 to 8 per cent.

Foreign exchange moved erratically, opening well above yesterday's close, but receding in the latr dealings. Brokers declared that foreign creditors seemed less inclined to extend impending payments, this being attributed to latest news from the theater of war.

Domestic trade conditions were reflected in the small decrease in idle cars. Reports of prominent dry goods interests and merchant authorities also indicate greater caution regarding new supplies.

Declaration of a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. on the preferred stock of the Southern Railway in lieu of the cash disbursement of 2½ per cent. occasioned little surprise in view of the distrubed conditions in the cotton market.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 9.—There has been a distinct improvement in sentiment here during the week, with reference to prospects for an early resumption of business on the cotton exchange. A tentative plan for financing such old contracts as remain outstanding through a consumption and a syndicate has met with general approval, and its successful operation is believed assured, if no unforeseen obstacles develop. Meanwhile, the board of managers has approved the by laws and rules drawn up by the special committee providing for a new contract meeting the requirements of the United States cotton futures law, and also a proposal to increase commissions. Plans for the organization of a clearing house for cotton contracts have not yet been completed, but will probably be submitted to the board of managers next week. It is expected that when the exchange is reopened, trading under old methods will be confined strictly to liquidation. Members of the exchange will vote upon the new by-laws Oct. 19, and if the plans for taking over old contracts prove practicable, many traders believe the market may reopen by the first of the month.

Southern spot markets have been weak and unsettled during the week, with prices selling off to 6¾ for middling cotton at Houston, and to 7 cents at Savannah.

So far this season only 1,096,169 bales have been brought into sight comparing with 2,816,744 last year.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Ill Effects of European War Continued—Warm Weather Hurts.

New York, Oct. 9.—Bradstreets' will say tomorrow:

"Trade reports present an admixture of continued ill effects of the European war, warm weather, depression in the Southern cotton crop situation; high rates for money, although there are some signs of easing, hand to mouth buying; slow collections, restricted industrial outputs and close scanning of credits. Under the circumstances the trade and industrial situation exhibits a very uneven appearance and at this juncture export operations, largely of war supplies, provide the chief fillip to a concededly disappointing trade. Warm weather over a wide area has prevented free distribution of seasonable goods by retail dealers, and this reacts upon jobbing trade.

At the same time, conservatism is widespread and curtailing buying for future delivery, while difficulty in obtaining credit likewise provides an additional check rein.

Bank clearings for the week edned Thursday, Oct. 8, according to Bradstreets', are $2,279,751,000, a decrease of 19 per cent. from last year. Wheat exports, including flour, aggregated 8,127,251 bushels, against 6,148,948 last year; business failures, 332, against 314 last year.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Liverpool, Oct. 9.—Cotton, spot, in moderate demand; sales, 3,000 bales, including 2,500 American, on the bases of 5.30d. for middling. Imports, 1,242 bales, including 901 American.

FINANCIAL QUOTATIONS.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE OF LANDS.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed executed by Wilmington Door & Lumber Company to C. N. Evans, President, Trustee, dated March 18th, 1912, and recorded Book 68, page 107, in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, default having been made in the payment of the debt thereby secured, the undersigned will, on Monday, the 9th day of November, 1912, at 12 o'clock M., at the court house door in New Hanover county, expose to sale for cash at public auction to the highest bidder, the following described tracts or parcels of land:

First Tract.

Beginning at a point in the western line of Front street 132 feet North of the northern line of Ann street, running thence northwardly along said western line of Front street 66 feet; thence westwardly and parallel with Ann street to the channel or deep water of the Cape Fear river; thence along said channel or deep water of the Cape Fear River southwardly and parallel with Front street 66 feet to the northern line of Lot No. 5, in Block 125 of said City; thence eastwardly and parallel with Ann street to the western line of Front street, the point of beginning. The same being that tract or parcel of land conveyed by one A. M. Price to Brunswick Wood & Coal Company by deed bearing date January the 7th, 1911, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County, and conveyed by Brunswick Wood & Coal Company to Wilmington Door & Lumber Company, as will appear by reference to the Public Records of New Hanover County.

Second Tract.

Beginning at a point in the northern line of Meares street 183 feet east of the eastern line of Fourth street, and running thence along said line of Meares street 33 feet in an eastwardly direction; thence North and parallel with Fifth street 87 feet to the Old Coalfield (Francis Morris) line; thence along said line in a westwardly direction 33 feet; thence southwardly and parallel with Fifth street 87 feet to the northern line of Meares street, the point of beginning. The same being part of Lots 5 and 6, in Block 20, according to the official plan of the City of Wilmington.

Third Tract.

All that certain piece, parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in Cape Fear Township, on the East side, in the County of New Hanover and State of North Carolina, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a cypress, on the West side of Cat Fish Creek, a small distance above an old field; thence with the lower line or a tract formerly owned by Samuel Ashe, west 220 poles to a cypress on said Cat Fish Creek near its head; thence same course 103 poles to the North West river; thence down the river so as to measure in a due South line 95 poles; thence from said river due East 336 poles to Cat Fish Creek; thence up said creek 35 poles; thence due East 75 poles to a stake on the Sand Hill; thence North 12 degrees west 62 poles; thence West 80 poles to Cat Fish Creek, opposite the Fish Station, containing by estimation 222½ acres, of which Twenty-Five acres is high land.

One tract situate in said County of New Hanover, on the South side of Cat Fish Creek, in the upper part of the bend, beginning at a cypress of the creek between the line of the land which formerly belonged to Samuel Ashe and Thos. C. Reston; thence with their line East 84 poles to the corner of said Ashe's line, or rather his old center ditch; thence with said Center Ditch North 2 poles; thence East 30 poles to the corner by the side of the Creek; thence West to the Creek and thence up the Creek to the beginning, containing 9½ acres.

One tract situate in said County of New Hanover, on said North West River and Cat Fish Creek.

Beginning on the River, on the lower corner of the tract, on said Creek first above described; thence East 60 poles; thence South 129 poles to the River; thence up the River to the beginning, containing 60 acres of Tide Swamp.

Also eight acres of Sand Hill, situate in said County of New Hanover, on Cat Fish Creek.

Beginning on the Creek at what was formerly known as the Reston lower corner; thence down the creek 20 poles; thence East and back adjoining the western line for its complement. The last mentioned Four tracts of land, described under "Third Tract" herein being the same lands conveyed by E. P. H. Strunch and wife to Brunswick Wood & Coal Company by deed bearing date June 12, 1909, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County, in Book 58, page 458 et seq., and reference is hereby made to said deed for the description therein contained, and the same being conveyed by the Brunswick Wood & Coal Company to the Wilmington Door & Lumber Company, by proper deed of conveyance, as the Public Records of New Hanover County will show.

The foregoing tracts of land will be sold separately, except as to those tracts lying on or near Cat Fish Creek, which latter tracts will be offered separately and as a whole.

Dated and posted this 7th day of October, 1914.

COAST LINE WANTS TO DISCONTINUE TRAINS

Officials Asked Permission to Take Off Nos. 90 and 91

Messrs. Craig, King and Newell Appear Before Corporation Commission —Merry Oaks Bank Matter —Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9.—General Passenger Agent W. J. Craig, of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., together with a number of the other high officials of this railroad, appeared before the Corporation Commission today asking especially that the company be allowed to take off passenger trains Nos. 90 and 91 operating between Wilmington and Goldsboro leaving Wilmington each morning at 8:40 o'clock and arriving at Goldsboro at 6:38 and leaving Goldsboro each night at 10:25 and reaching Wilmington at 1:15 A. M.

Mr. Craig, as spokesman for the party officials, whice included General Superintendent W. H. Newell and Superintendent of Transporation King, explaine dto the commission that the Atlantic Coast Line is not coming to the commission with any lengthy statement of conditions and requests of sweeping changes in service in the interest of necessary retrenchment, but wihed to remind the commission of great and rapid falling off in passenger travel, the decrease in receipts of the Coast Line from this source in September along having amounted to $75,000 and with revenue from freights decreasing in even greater proportions. He explained that the four greatest sources of freight revenue for the Coast Line are phosphate rock, cotton, lumber and naval stores, and that all these are hard hit by present conditions. He said the trains 90 and 91 were really put on at the insistence of people of Goldsboro and counsel for The Wilmington Star to enable people to get into Goldsboro to spend the day and the Star to get its newspaper up that line in time to meet competition from other publishing points.

He said that if allowed to take off these trains there will be adjustments by which the passenger and mail train now leaving Wilmington at 8:40 o'clock will be moved up to 7:30 o'clock so that the Morning Star will be given an earlier distribution and Goldsboro will also be benefited by the earlier arrival of this train. He said that the trains they ask to be allowed to take off have never paid, are operated entirely in the night time, a condition suicidal to local train service such as this.

Mr. Craig stated that this was all the Coast Line is asking at this time and their purpose was to bear as far as possible the burden of losses through depressed busines conditions and appeal to the commission as necessity required.

Mr. Craig explained to the commission that about the time the present business depression began Coast Line authorities were conferring with Goldsboro and Wilmington commercial bodies for readjustment of the schedules of trains Nos. 90 and 91 with a view to giving more seasonable hours for service that might make it more self-sustaining and that if allowed to take off these trains for the present, would reestablish them on revised schedules just as soon as conditions become normal.

Action by the commission as to taking off the trains may be expected very soon.

The commission took the case of the Coast Line under consideration and will announce its decision later.

Adjusting Bank Trouble.

Arrangements are being made for The Sanford Loan and Trust Co., to become permanent receiver for The Bank of Merry Oaks, for which F. W. Bynum, of Pittsboro, was made temporary receiver some weeks ago on applicatio nof the corporation commission, the commission having found through examinations of The Merry Oaks bank that it had permitted overdrafts by certain clients that imparied its condition to such extent as to necessitate receivership to conserve the interests of the deposits. The Sanford Loan and Trust Co., is to give $18,000 cirtified check as security, this representing about half the deposits. It is thought that the crippled bank will have its affairs wound up in such way as to completely protect depositors from loss.

Pardon Granted.

Governor Craig grants a pardon for Haywood Weathers, Wake county, who has served all but ont month of a two years sentence for manslaughter. The Governor says it a pears that the young man has a very good character and that the homicide was committed under the very greatest provocation, with plausible contention that he really acted in self defence. The trial judge, the solicitor and many others join in the request for the pardon.

MORRISON NOT CANDIDATE.

Governor Craig's Successor Should Come From East, He Says.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 9.—Mr. Cameron Morrison handed the newspaper correspondents in this city today the following interview:

"After full consideration of the suggestion that I become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor to succeed Governor Craig, I have decided that I cannot be a candidate.

"We have a custom in the State to alternate in the selection of our Democratic candidate for Governor between the eastern and western sections of the State. Under this custom, Governor Craig being from the west, his successor should be a resident of the eastern section of the State. This custom, although it may not be a good one, has been adhered to by our party for some years. I recognize that the existence of this custom, together with the great popularity of the distinguished Democrats residing in the east who are candidates, would involve me in an unpleasant contest with friends which I am not willing to enter into; and, therefore, I have definitely decided not to be a candidate.

"I wish to sincerely thank all those who have manifested sympathy for my suggested candidacy and to assure my friends of the deep appreciation that I feel for their encouragement in the matter."

No sale ever held in Wilmington is so void of the fake idea as the one now being held at 111 Chestnut street by I. C. Loftin, Trustee for G. Henry Haar. Attend today.—Advertisement.

WILL EXTEND LINER INTO DUPLIN COUNTY

Norfolk Southern Awaiting Improvement In Conditions

Sunday School and Epworth League of Newbern District—Cattle Raising to be Encouraged—Other Kinston Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 9.—General Passenger Agent H. S. Leard and Traffic Manager E. D. Kyle, of the Norfolk Southern Railroad, have informed General Superintendent Wm. Hayes, of the Kinston-Carolina Railroad, that that line, subsidiary to the Norfolk Southern, is receiving attention by the system heads and that they anticipate extending it from Pink Hill into Duplin county as soon as financial conditions will permit.

It is expected that Chinquapin, 20 miles from Pink Hill, where the road now ends, or Maple Hill, 35 miles from Pink Hill, will be made the terminus. People of Maple Hill and the country between there and Chinquapin are expected by the Kinston Chamber of Commerce to come here to urge Maple Hill as the terminus, when a meeting is held in a few days under the chamber's auspices. The statement by the Norfolk Southern men that their company is seriously considering the extension has been received with much satisfaction by local business interests, and the planters and merchants in the upper part of Duplin, who have recently been agitating it with vigor. The Kinston-Carolina road, it is said, will retain its independent management, although the Norfolk Southern is the controlling factor.

The extension from Pink Hill to Chinquapin will be by way of Beulaville. Beulaville, Chinquapin and Maple Hill are substantial small towns in what is generally regarded as one of the most production sections in two state. They are surrounded by rich, level lands adapted to the staples, truck and fruit, capable of growing more to the acre than any land in this part of the State. Three-fourths of Duplin county will become tributary solely to Kinston with the lengthening of the Kinston-Carolina road.

Messrs. Leard and Kyle have been visiting various points along the Norfolk Southern's Goldsboro-Beaufort line, and express satisfaction at conditions. They see big possibilities in the development of the section now clamoring for the K. C. extension.

The official board of the newly organized Sunday School and Epworth League Conference of the Methodist Newbern district, which closed its first meeting here last night after two days session, will be comprised of the officers of the conference, named today as follows:

General Supervisor—Rev. J. E. Underwood, of Goldsboro, presiding elder of the district.

President—G. V. Richardson, Dover.

Vice President—N. M. Farrow, Bridgeton.

Secretary—Roger C. Hinson, Goldsboro.

Treasurer—C. E. Weathersby, Falson.

Superintendent of Organized Classes—Rev. W. A. Cade, Newbern.

Superintendent of the Home Department—Miss Annie Johnson, Goldsboro.

Superintendent of Teacher Training Classes—Y. T. Ormond, Kinston.

Superintendent of Elementary Work—Miss Love Rich, Oriental.

The board of officers will call future meetings and have general charge of the conference, which embraces about 90 Sunday Schools and 26 Epworth Leagues.

Prominent farmers, aided by government experts here in the interest of cattle tick eradication, late yesterday organized the Lenoir County Live Stock Association, the first organization to be had in Eastern Carolina for the promotion of the cattle industry.

The National Bureau of Animal Husbandry has promised to aid the Lenoir stock growers in all possible ways in their effort to extend the industry and to breed better grades of milch and beef cattle. The experts here will cooperate with the association in person until early in next year, when the local quarantine is expected to be lifted.

The association expects to develop this county into one of the biggest cattle producing centers of the South. It will give special attention to the growing of grain for winter food and better winter housing facilities.

TOBACCO AT WARSAW.

Prices Averaging Around Twelve Cents Only Money Crop.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 9.—Wednesday was decidedly the most successful day that the Warsaw tobacco market has had this season.

About 50,000 pounds of the bright leaf was on the market, and the quality was greatly improved. The average price was 12 cents per pound, which is a good bit more than the average has been on any day this season, and as was stated by a disintedested party, seemed more like the high prices of last season.

The tobacco crop is playing almost a lone hand in the money market of this section, as it is the one crop that is bringing the farmer cash at this time, although they are not in need as much as some farmers your correspondent has seen during the past few days.

Bordeaux, via London, Oct. 8.—The Nems Wiener Tagblatt, a copy of which has arrived here from Vienna, says that an indictment alleging high treason and covering 37 pages, has been read to 25 prisoners who are charged with having been concerned in the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir apparent of the Austrian throne at Sarajevo.

PLAIN TALK No. 3

If a business man went to his home after his day's work in his office and found the chairs in his library dusty; pictures hanging crooked on the wall; the room cold; a general sense of untidiness, uncleanliness and general disorder, he would register a kick and howl that would be heard all over the house. And yet — this same man spends his hours of business in an office where intelligent and regular janitor service is unknown, in fact where there are no facilities for such service. He sits through the dirt and dust. His clients and friends call; they do not see; they have become accustomed and hardened to the old order of things. And there lies the point. Few NEW faces do come. There is no attraction. Look this square in the face. Is this the case in your business? Think it over. There is a building in Wilmington which remedies all of these and many other troubles for $12.00 a month and up. Brighten up. Stir around a bit. Get yourself in the Murchison National Bank Building, and be proud of your office quarters. Visit the tenants already in this handsome building; talk to them. They have a message for you.
